By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Medical science has nearly finished the history-making role it played in separating the Brodie twins—and in keeping one of them alive.

From now on, Rodney Dee Brodie will be traveling largely on his own along the uphill road his parents pray will lead to a normal life.

Appears On TV

A nation which followed every move in the grim drama saw Tuesday night the first still pictures of Rodney published since the operation. They appeared in newspapers and a magazine.

Thursday night viewers will get their first live view of Rodney in a telecast from the hospital. The program, on the NBC network at 6:30 p. m. Central Standard Time, will pick up shots of Rodney at 6:52 p. m.

When photographers made films for television, newsreel and press use last week, Rodney, happy and smiling, greeted the cameramen with a loud "Hi!" and a wave of his rattle.

It was the deep hope of such a normal life that prompted his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, to consent last winter to an operation never before successful.

The doctors had a more immediate problem after the twins, joined at the head, were separated in a 12 hour and 40 minute operation Dec. 17. The first task was to keep both or one alive.

Skull Top Next

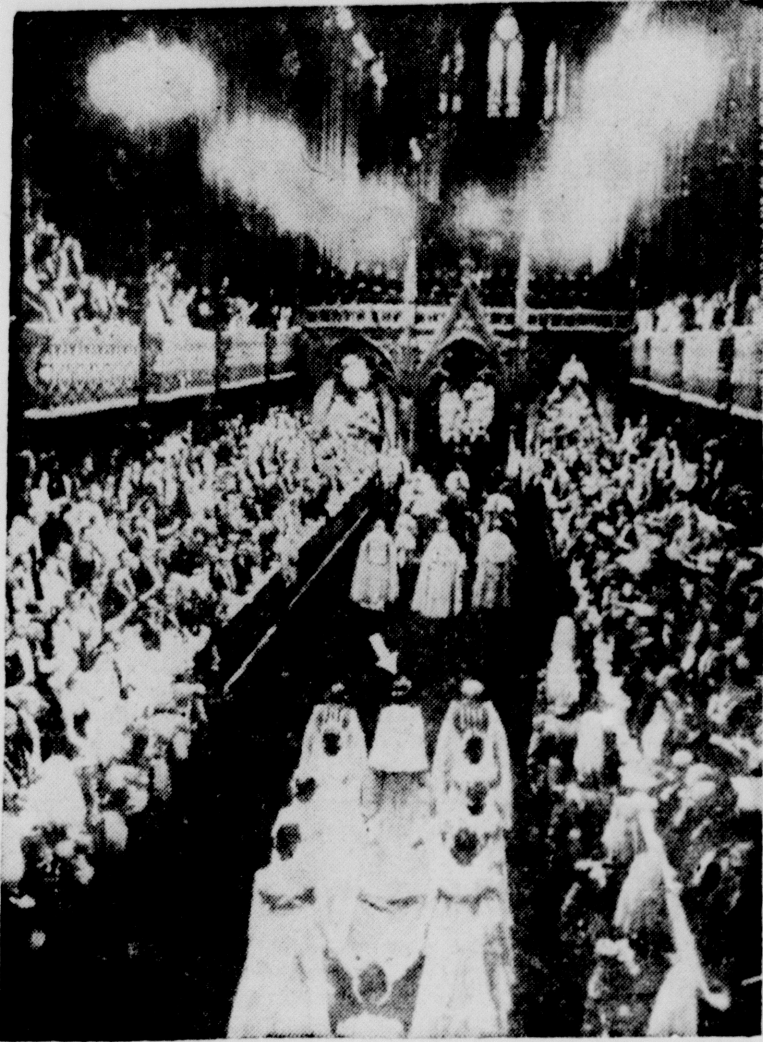

Twin Roger Lee didn't make it. He died 34 days later without regaining consciousness.

Rodney teetered for two months between life and death. Then on March 11 came his 20th and most crucial operation. Surgeons succeeded in covering his exposed brain with skin grafts.

The danger of fatal brain infection was gone. The 20-month-old boy entered a new phase of life.

Rodney developed a sort of left-

White House Plugs For Extension Of Excess Profits Tax

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration, having broken the ice on reciprocal trade, renewed its effort today to thaw out the House Ways and Means Committee on an extension of the excess profits tax.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, quizzed sharply Monday on the administration's proposal to extend for six months the bitterly opposed tax, was called back before the committee for more of the same today.

A compromise agreement yesterday afternoon apparently paved the way for quick approval by the key committee of another request by President Eisenhower—a one-year extension of the act which authorizes the President to cut tariffs in reciprocal trade agreements with other countries.

In a major victory for the administration, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) and other Republican leaders on the committee agreed to sponsor a trade bill along the lines urged by Eisenhower.

GOP leaders in the House and Senate said they had high hopes of speeding the bill through Congress by June 12, when the present trade act expires.

Democrats, however, promised a battle over one point in the compromise plan—to increase the Tariff Commission from six to seven members, in effect giving Republicans a majority. But differences over this point were not expected to block the plan as a whole.

However, Carlson said he agreed that the firing powers as approved by the appropriations committee were too broad. He has rewritten the riders to apply only to employees not chosen by competitive

London Hunting For Sex Knifer

LONDON (AP)—Police and U. S. military authorities spread a nationwide net today for a knife-wielding sex slayer who killed one teen-aged girl and possibly a second. They feared he might strike again.

Detectives grilled more than 1,000 U. S. airmen at nearby Bushy Park camp after the battered body of 16-year-old Barbara Songhurst was pulled from the Thames River. The girl had been missing since Sunday when she went on a date with an 18-year-old friend, Christine Reed.

Police were convinced that Christine was killed, too. Her shoes were found on the river bank near signs of a bloody struggle and her bicycle was dragged from the river. Police said they planned to use Navy divers to search the river for her body.

Authorities said the killer mutilated Barbara with a nine-inch dagger as she struggled to fight off his attack. Then he redressed her in a sweater and jeans before throwing her body into the river. Every policeman in Britain has been warned to look for a missing U. S. airman driving a stolen black sedan. Authorities also are seeking a British airman who knew both girls.

Chinese Nationalists Propose Cease-Fire In Northern Burma

BANGKOK (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists have proposed a cease-fire in Northeast Burma where their guerrillas now are fighting the Burmese Army, it was learned today.

The proposal was made at the current four-power talks here which are designed to get the guerrillas removed from Burma and ease tension on the Burma-Thailand border with Communist China.

The Chinese apparently believed it would have a greater chance of persuading the strong guerrilla forces to agree to be taken to Formosa if fighting stops in the wild, mountainous border region.

Reds Answer New Allied Truce Offers Thursday

Democrats Fight Patronage Grab On Senate Floor

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate floor showdown shaped up today on legislation affecting firing of federal employees. Democrats denounced it as a "patronage grab" and Republicans defended it as necessary to give them effective control of the government.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), leading the fight against the riders containing the firing powers, told a reporter he expected most senators of his party to go along with him and thus defeat them.

More To Come

To attach the riders to a bill going through the Senate requires a two-thirds vote because the rules must be suspended. The riders are being offered on the $1,104,379,000 bill carrying money for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments. Senate rules forbid legislation on an appropriations bill.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), sponsor of the riders, said in an interview he was hopeful of success. If he wins, he plans to try to give the same power to other departments as their money bills for fiscal 1954 come along.

The House defeated by close floor votes riders to give the secretaries of state and commerce and attorney general blanket firing powers over all their employees, despite civil service provisions.

Powers Too Broad

The Senate Appropriations Committee then wrote identical provisions into the State-Commerce-Justice bill when it reached that body.

But Monroney already has succeeded in blocking the one applying to the State Department on a point of order as legislation on a money bill. He planned to raise the same issue on the other two, thus forcing sponsors to attempt suspension of the rules.

However, Carlson said he agreed that the firing powers as approved by the appropriations committee were too broad. He has rewritten the riders to apply only to employees not chosen by competitive

Washington Train Rams Into Freight; 2 Trainmen Killed

MANASSAS, Va. (AP)—A Washington bound passenger train slammed into a standing freight train near this Northern Virginia town today killing two trainmen. Ten passengers were shaken up.

Trapped and killed in the cab of the diesel locomotive were George A. Shelhorn, engineer, and H. W. Sublett, fireman both of Alexandria, Va.

The freight was a Chesapeake & Ohio train. The C. & O. uses the Southern tracks at this point.

The engineer and fireman of the Southern Railway diesel passenger engine were crushed as the locomotive ploughed into the string of freight cars. Freight crewmen in the caboose saw the passenger train in time and jumped to safety. The two trainmen were pinned in the wreckage.

The diesel engine splintered the caboose and bulldozed through a number of other freight cars. None of the passenger cars left the tracks.

Pay Raise Asked By Steel Union

PITTSBURGH (AP)—United States Steel Corp. began giving its answer today to the steel union's wage demand but a clear cut "yes" or "no" reply is not likely immediately.

Just before negotiators for the CIO United Steelworkers and Big Steel closed themselves in renewed contract talks, Vice President John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel said:

"We will be replying to the union's arguments but there will be further discussions of the matter with the union. We want to try to further define the areas of discussion."

The union asked for a general wage increase—amount unspecified—when 1953 wage bargaining opened May 14. The union took two days to present its case. Then sessions were recessed to give the company time to study the proposals.

Armistice Talks At Panmunjom Remain Secret

MUNSAN (AP)—The Communists handed the Allies a letter relating to the Korean armistice talks at a two-minute meeting of liaison officers today. The U. N. Command said its contents would remain secret.

An official spokesman said, however, a full-scale negotiating session will be held on schedule at 11 a. m. Thursday after a nine-day recess.

Last Peace Barrier

The Reds were expected to answer the latest Allied proposal for breaking the prisoner exchange deadlock, last major barrier to a Korean truce.

Barring a last-minute change, Thursday's truce session will be secret.

The disposition of 48,500 Allied captives who refuse to return to communism is the last big road block to a cease-fire in the nearly three-year-old war.

The U. N. Command offered its proposal in a closed door session May 25 and the contents never have been officially disclosed. South Korean sources have divulged most of the plan, however.

The drawout talks resume amid apparently easing tensions between the U. N. and South Korea, which has bitterly denounced the Allied offer as a "sellout."

Rhee To Cooperate

South Korea, after boycotting the May 25 session, indicated that a delegate will attend Thursday's meeting in Panmunjom.

South Korean President Syngman Rhee, after disclosing he received a message from U. S. President Eisenhower, told newsmen Tuesday he will co-operate with the U. S. "at any cost."

But the fiery 78-year-old leader reiterated he will insist that Chinese forces withdraw from North Korea after an armistice. A major point of the draft armistice already accepted by both sides allows Chinese and U. N. troops to stay in Korea after an armistice.

Boy Finds $2,000 Cutting Grass On Neighbor's Lot

MISSION, Kas. (AP)—Who owns the $2,000 an astonished 16-year-old boy uncovered while mowing grass on a neighbor's empty lot?

The owner of the lot, Charles Asner, says his wife had been saving the money without his knowledge for seven years and buried it in a fruit jar.

The boy, Robert Guthrie, just gulped when he saw the money Tuesday and called his father.

Sheriff Norman F. Williams was consulted. Williams carefully counted the small bills and consulted the county attorney, James Bradley. Bradley told the sheriff to keep the money and they would consult District Court about any and all claims. Asner consulted his lawyer and said he would file a claim with the court today.

British Queen Starts On Six-Weeks Journey To Visit Her Subjects

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II, truly crowned "in the sight of all the people," turned today from the paths of pageantry to dingy Cockney streets and a round of personal calls on her adoring subjects.

Tuesday's exaltation, now consecrated in Britain's memory, marked the beginning of six weeks of coronation journeys.

With her handsome husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, at her side, Elizabeth today started motoring through neighborhood byways for face-to-face chats with plain people.

Symbol of Unity

First on her itinerary was London's northeast section, where she will drive this afternoon. Thursday the royal couple visits Northwest London, with tours of other sections of the city Sunday and Monday.

The Queen presides at state banquet for distinguished coronation guests at Buckingham Palace to-night and Thursday night.

Elizabeth's travels through her capital, and in future weeks through other key cities of her home islands, typify the task destiny has cut out for her—to be her subjects' living symbol of everything Britain cherishes, to be the tie holding together the varied races of the Commonwealth.

Fireworks Glitter

In London, throughout Great Britain and in every continent where Britain's contribution to history has left indelible marks, peoples celebrated the Queen's coronation Tuesday in Westminster Abbey.

Crowds growing to 100,000 cheered the Queen and her family on six different appearances they made on the flood-lit balcony at Buckingham Palace. Thousands danced in the streets. Great bonfires blazed through the land. Fireworks turned London's night into a spectacular theatrical pageant.

Air Force Chief Gives His Views On Budget Slash

By ELWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, soon to step out as Air Force chief of staff, was called upon to tell senators today what he thinks of Eisenhower administration budget cutbacks in which he has said he had no final choice.

Vandenberg and Secretary of the Air Force Talbot were invited before a Senate appropriations subcommittee for testimony today on plans to whack more than five billion dollars from future Air Force funds and lower its immediate goal from 143 wings to 120 wings of 30 to 75 planes each.

The Air Force has not concealed its disappointment at these cutbacks, and indications were that Vandenberg would carry the burden of the battle.

The reasons were two: Vandenberg has had long experience with Air Force policies and requirements since he became air chief of staff in 1948, including a previous economy cutback program; and the general, about to retire, could speak up strongly on whatever views he holds. Unlike Talbot, he no longer will have to live in the Pentagon with the new high brass of the Defense Department.

In advance of the hearing, Subcommittee Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) said:

"I feel confident that the Senate will support President Eisenhower on the Air Force budget when senators get the facts."

Majority For Economy

And Republicans who attended a session of the Conference of all Republican Senators yesterday, came out reporting that a majority would go along with the Air Force cuts.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee was said to have told the group the cutbacks would not harm the nation's defense buildup and would actually produce more modern combat planes than the discarded Truman budget.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Vandenberg's successor as Air Force chief of staff, recently told senators the cutbacks would delay the Air Force program of building the 143-wing force and that he regarded that level as essential to national security.

Counterfeiters Busy In Chicago; $3,000 In Fake $20 Bills Passed

CHICAGO (AP)—The U. S. Secret Service said today that counterfeiters have passed more than $3,000 in fake $20 bills on Chicago area merchants in the last three months.

Harry D. Anheier, head of the Chicago office of the Secret Service, said many of the notes turned up in the last four days in downtown department stores, drug stores and restaurants.

Anheier said the counterfeit notes, similar to a batch which flooded the Midwest three years ago, are "exceptionally" well made. They bear the seal of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Rushed To Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—The first picture of Queen Elizabeth being crowned spanned two oceans and a continent and was in the hands of Tokyo newspapers within one hour of the historic event.

The Associated Press was the first into Tokyo with the picture through its radiophoto-wirephoto network via London, New York and San Francisco.

Eisenhower Policies On Red China Trade Win Over Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appears on the way today toward accepting President Eisenhower's personally exercised leadership on Red China and reciprocal trade policies.

As the result of direct presidential intervention the Senate was ready to approve an appropriations bill rider limited to expressing the opinion that the Chinese Communists should not be admitted to the United Nations.

Compromise Reached

At the President's suggestion in a White House conference, congressional leaders substituted this Tuesday for a sharp-toothed rider which would have cut off U. S. fund contributions for the U. N. if it admitted the Chinese Reds.

The President's hand was almost as clearly discernible in a compromise agreement reached by House leaders to push through legislation requested by the White House to extend the present reciprocal trade agreements program for one year.

House leaders bypassed controversial changes to which the President had objected and Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee promised speedy consideration in the Senate after the House clears the measure.

Influence Kills Rider

The two abrupt changes in course by congressional leaders marked Eisenhower's biggest success to date in influencing the course of legislation.

Only the President's intervention seemed to have halted almost certain congressional approval of the U. N. fund-stopping rider.

The substitute rider merely would put both houses of Congress on record with a policy statement almost exactly following the language of a resolution adopted by the Senate Jan. 23, 1951.

Climbers Leave Everest's Peak

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—The intrepid British-led mountain climbers who scaled the world's tallest mountain for the first time last week were reported today on their way down the perilous slopes of towering Mt. Everest. It probably will be several weeks before they reach civilization to tell the full story of their triumph.

As the world cheered the news that two of the 15-man team had planted Britain's Union Jack (and presumably Nepal's flag, also) on the icy summit as a coronation gift to Queen Elizabeth II, the climbers huddled below the peak and celebrated the monarch's crowning Tuesday with a toast to her. The nature of the beverage was not known here.

Word that the team led by Col. John Hunt had succeeded in the supreme test of mountaineering was brought by native runners, speeding in relays from Everest's desolate heights.

The message said that Edward Hillary, a New Zealand beekeeper, and the famous guide from Nepal's Sherpa tribe, Bhutia (Tiger) Tensing, had reached the icy 29,000 foot summit on May 29, the party's third try.

The intense cold and fierce storms that swirl around Mt. Everest's slopes had beaten back 10 other expeditions in the past 32 years.

Hunt For Body Of Lost Airman

Conservation officers and volunteers today patrolled the shore of Lake Michigan northeast of Fairport but air search for the body of Don Miller, Chicago pilot who crashed Sunday evening in his private plane, has been abandoned by the Coast Guard.

Conservation Officer Hugh Fisher of Garden was directing the patrols along the shore where searchers yesterday found seat cushions from the lost plane.

Earlier yesterday a Coast Guard patrol boat picked up a tire and what is believed to be a piece of the wing floating two miles southeast of Pt. Detroit at the tip of the Garden Peninsula.

Lake Michigan's depth in the area where the wreckage was found varies from 70 to 140 feet.

Lt. Comdr. Paul Morosky, who piloted a Coast Guard helicopter in the search, yesterday afternoon said the air search was ordered abandoned by Coast Guard officials. Because of the great depth of water the wreckage of the plane on the bottom is not visible.

Miller left Garden Sunday evening, following another Chicago plane piloted by John Casey of Chicago. Casey arrived in Chicago and reported that Miller and his plane were missing.

The Casey brothers, John and Victor, former Garden residents, and Miller spent the weekend in Garden on a fishing trip. They had made the trip many times before in past years.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford

Former Governor to Her Majesty

XXV

In Canada, on the most strenuous Royal tour ever undertaken, there were often tears in her eyes when the conversation turned to her father's illness, or even at banquets when the ritualistic toast was given to "The King!" She sought to reassure herself constantly by transatlantic telephone calls asking about his recovery.

The tension she clearly suffered did nothing to impair her graciousness, but the essential warmth of her personality tended to be overshadowed by the strain of the hectic routine of inspecting Guards of Honor, visits to City Halls, the presentation of City Councilors, receiving bouquets, and addresses of welcome. The Duke of Edinburgh spread the cloak of his smiling protection around her, in an effort to help her.

One day she seemed particularly tense as she sat stiff and erect in a limousine, ready to depart for yet another official function. The Duke entered the car and began a lively conversation with her. She received from him a gift which every wife realizes is priceless, a compliment on how attractive she looked in the dress she was wearing. She relaxed, with a smile that the crowds shared with her husband.

Sense of Duty

Queen Elizabeth's sense of duty drives her to the limits of her strength and endurance today. She governed her onerous tours by two broad principles, while the actual day - to - day details, of course, were worked out by the country whose guest she was.

She insists that she be seen by as many people as humanly possible, and she asks to see as much of the country as she can, whether by car, train, airplane, or ship. She stipulates, too, something that comes straight from her heart - that special consideration be given to the children and the ex-service men and women on all occasions.

As the days passed on her Canadian tour, the continuing favorable reports of the King's doctors and the Duke of Edinburgh's infectious high spirits transformed the Princess. Canadians caught sight of the happy, graceful girl I used to watch in the Palace ballrooms when, at Government House in Ottawa, she danced lightheartedly in flared blue skirt and brown checked blouse.

Since her childhood she has heard the Scottish reels that the band played there, but the "hoe down" was completely new to her. After one brief lesson, she acquitted herself handsomely to the music of such Western favorites as "Rock Valley" and "The Farmer's Jamboree."

As I have said, Queen Elizabeth, like all of us, lives and learns, but she learns faster than most—as she is showing us already in her young reign.

Minutes of Recreation — If Canada were already in love with her, that love deepened as the crowds noticed the little, human details of her appearance: easing her feet out of fashionable, high-heeled pumps; her hatless, hair-blown ride beside her husband.

band in a racing open car; her hairdressing appointment soon afterward, where the sympathetic woman hairdresser reported later that "she was homesick for her children."

She telephoned Clarence House to talk to Prince Charles from Eaglecrest, the ski lodge retreat in the Laurentian Mountains, set in a landscape straight from an old-fashioned Christmas card.

Before a roaring log fire she painstakingly wrote the thank-you notes, which she never forgets, and outside the lodge she was almost a girl again, freed of public servitude for a romp over the snow while the Duke of Edinburgh built a snowman and threw snowballs at her.

But such moments would be few. She knew that then. She knew it earlier, when on her 21st birthday she said—in words that still move me as I think of them: "I declare before you all that my whole life, whether it be short or long, shall be devoted to your service and the service of our great Imperial family to which we all belong."

"But I shall not have the strength to carry out that resolution alone unless you join in it with me, as I now invite you to do."

Saved a New Hat

With the ladies-in-waiting, a valet, footman, and a casket full of jewels, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visited the capital of the United States for what one newspaper account accurately described as "the best party Washington ever had." As any one of us would, she had saved a new velvet hat for her journey south of the Canadian border.

I have always found the people of North America generous and demonstrative to a point where such retiring souls as I am almost overwhelmed. I think Princess Elizabeth may have experienced a similar feeling during the nearly 20,000 miles of her journeying in that awe-inspiring continent.

Washington had seldom seen such numbers on its broad avenues as when the Royal party arrived.

President Truman himself declared: "Never before have we had such a wonderful young couple that so completely captured

Open TB X-Ray Schedule Here

People of Delta county are being given the opportunity to have free chest x-rays this week and next as the State Health Department's mobile x-ray units open their schedule of appearances in seven communities.

Chest x-rays are advised by the State Health Department in its continuing program of early discovery of tuberculosis, so the disease can be most effectively treated and controlled, said Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee Health Department.

The chest x-rays are for anyone 15 years of age and older.

Yesterday at Garden 122 persons were x-rayed and at Bark River 260 had chest examinations. Today the x-ray units are at Rapid River and Powers.

The schedule for the remainder of this week is as follows:

June 4—Rock, 11 a. m. to 4 p. m., Hermansville, 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

June 5 — Gladstone (Seibert's) 1 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Next week the schedule will include all-day stops at Gladstone, Groos and Escanaba. The complete schedule for next week will be presented in Saturday's newspaper.

Friends Aid Farmer Stricken By Storm

FAYETTE — Neighbors and friends of Dave Thill, whose barn was damaged by Saturday's windstorm, Tuesday proved that an ill wind can also bring some good.

The volunteers gathered in a work-bee at the Thill farm, about 25 men in all, and cleared away the barn wreckage so that Thill could use the barn facilities, including his milking machine. When they finished the debris had been cleared away and the lumber from the wrecked barn neatly piled for use when a new barn is built.

Thill has a herd of about 35 dairy cows and it was imperative that they be milked. By giving a helping hand the neighbors and friends made it possible for Thill to use his milking machine, and the milk checks will continue to come in without interruption.

The barn on the Thill farm was one of five damaged or destroyed Saturday evening by a windstorm that struck the Garden-Fayette area.

the hearts of all of us."

His beaming smile showed that, so far as he was concerned, he regarded the British Princess almost as "one of the family" — which, on the feminine side, wore new dresses for this celebration. That feminine side of his family, Mrs. Truman and his daughter Margaret, shared his opinions.

From the President's first "I thank you dear," spoken in answer to the formal arrival speech, to his farewell urging that the Royal couple should visit him again and "bring the children," those 45 packed hours in the United States afforded our future Queen a new vista of the world in which she now plays a vital part as ruler of its most powerful monarchy.

Additional Job Openings Exist Here

Many job openings exist now in this area for certain skills, according to Whitney R. Dixon, manager of the Escanaba Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Dixon said some of these openings are: bank teller, salesperson, fountain waitress, housekeeper, maid, short order cooks, cook, salad girl, orderly, baker, painters, meat cutter, piecemakers, room clerk, dining room hostess, and cleaning woman.

Additional openings are expected to materialize during the next few weeks, Dixon said. He requested any unemployed and interested individual to register at once with the local office.

Dixon also stated that, as the existing labor supply is rapidly diminishing, any employer who anticipates hiring should telephone 2181 and place his order.

FBI Conference At Marquette

F. H. McIntire, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Detroit office, has announced that an F.B.I. law enforcement conference on thefts from interstate shipment will be held Thursday, June 4, at Marquette. This is the third in a series of three conferences, the first having been held May 11, 1953 at Detroit, and the second being held at Grand Rapids, on June 2, 1953. The conferences are aimed at additional coordination among law enforcement agencies and improved efficiency in dealing with this increasingly serious violation.

Mr. McIntire said that since the fiscal year of 1949, there has been a steady rise on a national scale in the volume of the FBI's work in this category. This increase, coupled with the fact that major crime in the United States exceeded the two million mark in 1952, for the first time in the history of recorded crime statistics, indicated the need for such conferences.

Thefts from interstate shipment, according to Mr. McIntire, involve an extremely wide variety of offenses. The type of property stolen covers the full range of industrial products, and the method of theft may be marked with the full violence of a roadside hijacking. Recent FBI cases have varied from theft of a truck and its half-million dollar cargo of radio and television tubes to a boy's pilferage of two eight dollar lamps from a motor van. In both instances, the thieves have been apprehended. Methods of theft utilized vary from petty thievery by stealth to forging false destinations on shipping documents, embezzlement, thefts of entire vehicles while unattended, and armed robbery of drivers.

The problem facing the FBI is indicated by the fact that in the ten-year period from July 1, 1942 to June 30, 1952, there were 8,377 convictions in FBI cases involving thefts from interstate shipments.

Included in those participating in the June 4 conference to be held in Marquette, will be, in addition to the FBI's personnel, Captain A. J. Faust, New York Central railroad police, Detroit; Edmund J. Thomas, Marquette County Prosecutor; Irving Olson, divisional manager, Clairmont Trucking Company, Iron Mountain; William O. Johnson, L&L Trucking Company, Escanaba; Irwin Demers, DSS&A Railroad, Marquette; Donald McCormick, Chief of Police, Marquette Police Department; Captain Thor Person, Michigan State Police, Marquette Post, and John L. Sullivan, Chief of Police, Ironwood Police Department.

Permit Needed By Gun-Toters

The convict scare and man hunt has caused some people to believe they may carry weapons, concealed or otherwise, for their own protection or the protection of their property without first obtaining a permit, Safety Director Glen Leonard said today.

Leonard cited instances in which individuals were reportedly driving about the city with rifles and other guns in their cars. Some of these private citizens also visit the Soo Hill area where the search for the convicts has been under way.

State Police at 5:15 a. m. today took LeRoy Bastian, 629 N. 15th St., in custody on Washington Avenue and turned him over to city police for carrying concealed weapons.

Bastian, employed as a clerk for a Washington Avenue business place, was carrying a 22 air pellet pistol. Police said he told them he was guarding his employer's property.

Such weapons must be registered, Leonard said. Registration is made at the police station.

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapakis was informed and police released Bastian from jail pending further investigation.

Building Permits Down In Escanaba

The total value of building permits issued in May in the city of Escanaba declined below the total for the same month one year ago, possibly because of the carpenters' strike.

City Assessor Charles Schmidt reported the total value of building permits for the past month was $60,100, compared to a total of $61,300 for May one year ago.

Included in the permits issued last month were five dwellings, two gas stations, and other miscellaneous work such as private garages and home improvements.

The five permits to construct new dwellings were issued to Dr. D. F. LeMire, Lawrence D. Formenti, Emil E. Zittner, Elmer Nicholson and Louis A. Cretens.

Be Alert! Search For 4 Escaped Convicts Centers In This Area

THE shifting of the search for four escaped convicts to the Escanaba area quite naturally has intensified local interest in the manhunt, now in its 13th day.

The chances of any of the four men finding lasting freedom are virtually nil. Even now after 12 days of hiding out under adverse conditions, the convicts probably regret their escape. Hounded day and night by a cordon of trained law officers and by literally thousands of citizens, the convicts must realize the futility of their quest for freedom.

Only by the rarest of chances can any of the four men slip through the blockades and get out of the peninsula. And if they do, there is no prospect of peace and happiness for them. They will always be "wanted" men. Sooner or later—with accent on "sooner"—they will be back again.

Labor Peace In Construction Industry

SETTLEMENT of contract terms in the Upper Peninsula construction industry opens the way for full-fledged construction activity. Up to now construction has been lagging. The weather, of course, has been one reason, but another was the uncertainty of the labor situation. Contractors naturally were hesitant to start a big job without assurance that the job could continue without interruption. This could not be assured in the face of contract negotiations.

The settlement reached in the all night session at Iron Mountain Monday night and Tuesday morning assures two years of labor peace in the construction industry. Certainly the settlement was a generous one for the workers, with an immediate wage boost of 17 1/2c an hour and another 10 cents to become effective next April.

It means full speed ahead in the school construction program throughout the peninsula, resumption of the big White Pine Copper Mining project, dam construction work and, of course, it offers labor stability for the Straits of Mackinac bridge project if that job gets under way this year as hoped.

The Doctor Says . . . Too Much Exposure to Sun May Cause Serious Harm

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

When warm weather arrives many people carry their enthusiasm for the sun too far. After a winter in the factory or office, people are pale and easily burned. With the opening of the beaches and recreation spots the first clear Sunday is an invitation to over exposure to the sun. This results in the inevitable Monday morning crop of bright red skins, blisters and short tempers.

A severe sunburn is not only uncomfortable but doesn't help the health any. Although the sun's rays are beneficial in moderate quantities, when there is too much of it the skin is destroyed and harmed.

The action of the sun on the skin leads to the production of a substance called vitamin D, which is necessary for good health; it probably has other good effects as well. When part of the skin is killed by too much sun; however, the good effects are lost.

The proper amount of sun to take at the beginning is just enough to cause a gradual tanning or sunburn. The tanning which is caused by deposits of pigment serves as in the hands of the law to atone for additional crimes.

These men are dangerous criminals, wholly without respect for law or order. They will steal, rob, loot and kill without a second thought to the possible consequences. They are outside the law and as such they believe they are beyond the law.

Recently the Escanaba Press published the pictures of the four convicts who are missing. Since then the search for these men has shifted to Escanaba. Today as a service to our subscribers and at the request of the Michigan State Police, we are again publishing the pictures of the convicts. Look these pictures over carefully. Focus them in your mind.

If you see any of these men, notify the law enforcement officers. The safety of the area and of the entire Upper Peninsula depends upon the capture of these criminals.

They are getting more desperate with each passing hour. Their ill-fated dash for freedom from the Marquette area by the theft of an automobile and their robbery of a tavern proves this.

Be alert. Be suspicious.

A NEGRO IN ATLANTA

(Green Bay Press Gazette)

There were 92,000 whites and 18,000 Negroes registered for the privilege of voting in the city of Atlanta, Georgia.

But at the recent election there for members of the school board, an election that was city-wide, Dr. Rufus E. Clement, a Negro, was elected by a majority of 8,000 in a total of about 57,000 votes cast. Rufus carried eight of the nine wards in the city. He commented upon his election that there is a solid core of good will in both white and Negro groups. Clement has been for years a Negro educator and is highly regarded.

The South has been slowly but with great certainty throwing off the prejudices of the past. One of the obstructions against the creation of better feeling has been the politician who thought he could advance his cause by screaming about "white supremacy" but all shibboleths of that kind that are really based in hatred eventually wear themselves out. Gradually the people of the South have sized up the race bigots and found them wanting. Gradually, as in Dr. Clement's case, the white people have rid themselves of these artificial prejudices and voted for the better candidate. That sort of improvement is of high value, not only to Georgia and Atlanta, but to the nation.

Questions and Answers

Q—How much does the United States pay in United Nations "dues"?

A—During fiscal 1953, the U. S. paid $15,440,860 toward the UN's assessment budget. The House May 3 passed and sent to the Senate a fiscal 1954 appropriation bill for the State, Justice and Commerce Departments which includes $15,167,040 for the UN assessment. The UN assesses percentages of the total, and Congress appropriates the dollar equivalent. The U. S. share is gradually being reduced to one-third. In addition to dues, the U. S. makes other dollar contributions to the UN and other international organizations.

Q—Is Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley (Ret) making any progress in his protest of the 1952 election of Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N. M.)?

A—The Privileges and Elections Subcommittee of the Senate Rules Committee has gone ahead with a full investigation of the election, including a ballot recount. Chairman Frank A. Barrett (R-Wyo.) April 17 said his group decided on the probe after a staff investigation turned up "ample evidence" of election irregularities.

LOTIONS WILL PROTECT

A number of ointments or lotions can be placed on the skin and will protect somewhat against rays of the sun and promote tanning rather than burning. There are a great many of these substances on the market. Regardless of what is used, a little common sense is in order.

The temptation to soak up a lot of sun the first day should be resisted. It does no good to get too much and serious harm over and above a tender, painful skin can develop.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It is no great secret that the Dewey wing of the Republican party, sometimes called the liberal or non-isolationist wing, has not been happy of late. Though it was the governor of New York who buttonholed delegates and steam-rollered states over Taft at Chicago, it is the man Ike defeated at Chicago who has been calling most of the shots in Washington.

Dewey, now minding his own business in Albany, has watched his midwestern Republican enemies edge closer to the White House, but has said nothing.

Dewey believes in a strong policy of co-operation with Europe. The GOP isolationists now encroaching on the Eisenhower administration don't. Dewey believes in public housing, nonsegregation, federal control of public lands. Most of the GOP right-wingers now dominating the White House don't. Dewey did his best to persuade Eisenhower to snub Joe McCarthy during the campaign. The GOP pro-McCarthyites now guiding Ike did just the opposite.

Meanwhile, the progressive, pro-Dewey GOP senators in Washington have taken a back seat. It was Jim Duff of Pennsylvania who spearheaded the Eisenhower drive in the first place. You seldom hear from him in Washington today. It's Senators Irving Ives of New York, Bob Hendrickson of New Jersey, Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Aiken and Flanders of Vermont who have represented the progressive, usually pro-Dewey forces in the senate. They are generally on the sidelines today. They are still for Eisenhower, but most of the time they aren't even being consulted.

THREE POLITICAL AXIOMS

There are about three axioms of politics that both Democrats and Republicans agree on regarding Presidential strategy. They are:

1. A new President must put across his program during his first two years in office, preferably in the first year. If he doesn't do it during this honeymoon period, he's likely to be licked.
2. A President who is popular with the people can go over the heads of congress and ram his program down congressional throats. He can do this during the first blush of his popularity, but he can't do it later.
3. Once congress realizes that a President is timid about tugging with them, they'll kick him all over the legislative lot. Congressmen smell a President's weakness just as dogs can tell whether another dog will run from a fight.

These axioms, all politicians agree, hold good whether a Democrat or a Republican is in the White House.

LOSING TAX FIGHT

In capitol cloakrooms today these axioms are being discussed a lot. The Deweyites are discussing them—a little mournfully. And the GOP right-wingers are discussing them—a little gleefully.

For the axioms throw light on a lot of things. One of them is taxes. Ike has exactly 28 days left to persuade recalcitrant Republicans in the house of representatives to continue an unpopular excess-profits tax, and he probably isn't going to persuade them.

Chief reason is that hard-boiled, experienced Republican leaders like Dan Reed of New York have seen what happened when other Republicans like Joe McCarthy thumbed their noses at the President. Did they get spanked? No. They were taken right back into the bosom of the family.

McCarthy not only led the fight against one of Ike's ambassadorial appointments, but smacked a cabinet member in the face over Greek ships, and pin-pricked the administration every time he got a chance. Yet he suffered not a bit.

Republican leaders recall that had any senator done this to Roosevelt FDR would have cut off his patronage, exposed his operations publicly and gone into his district to block his re-election. Eisenhower, however, took it and said nothing.

Ike's problem regarding a Korean truce and foreign policy generally is hooked into the question of appeasing congress. One month ago Senator Knowland of California, leader of the Asia-first bloc, bounced down to the White House indignant over a purported Dulles policy that Chiang Kai-Shek and Formosa would be shunted aside in order to get a peace in Korea.

When the indignant Knowland protested, the White House and the Secretary of State retreated. They retreated with such haste that to other senators the spectacle was pathetic. For it is now fairly obvious that Chiang Kai-Shek is going to be of no help in retaking China, and that Dulles was right when he told newsmen Formosa would have to be side-tracked. Yet at the wave of one senator's finger, the administration back-tracked.

That victory which Knowland scored over Eisenhower is why the senator from California is now out for more blood in connection with the Korean truce. It's also one reason for Taft's "go-it-alone" speech.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—The health committee of the Delta County board of supervisors is sponsoring a reception for Dr. M. A. Elstein, director of the County Health Unit, to be held at the court house at 8 p. m. Thursday.

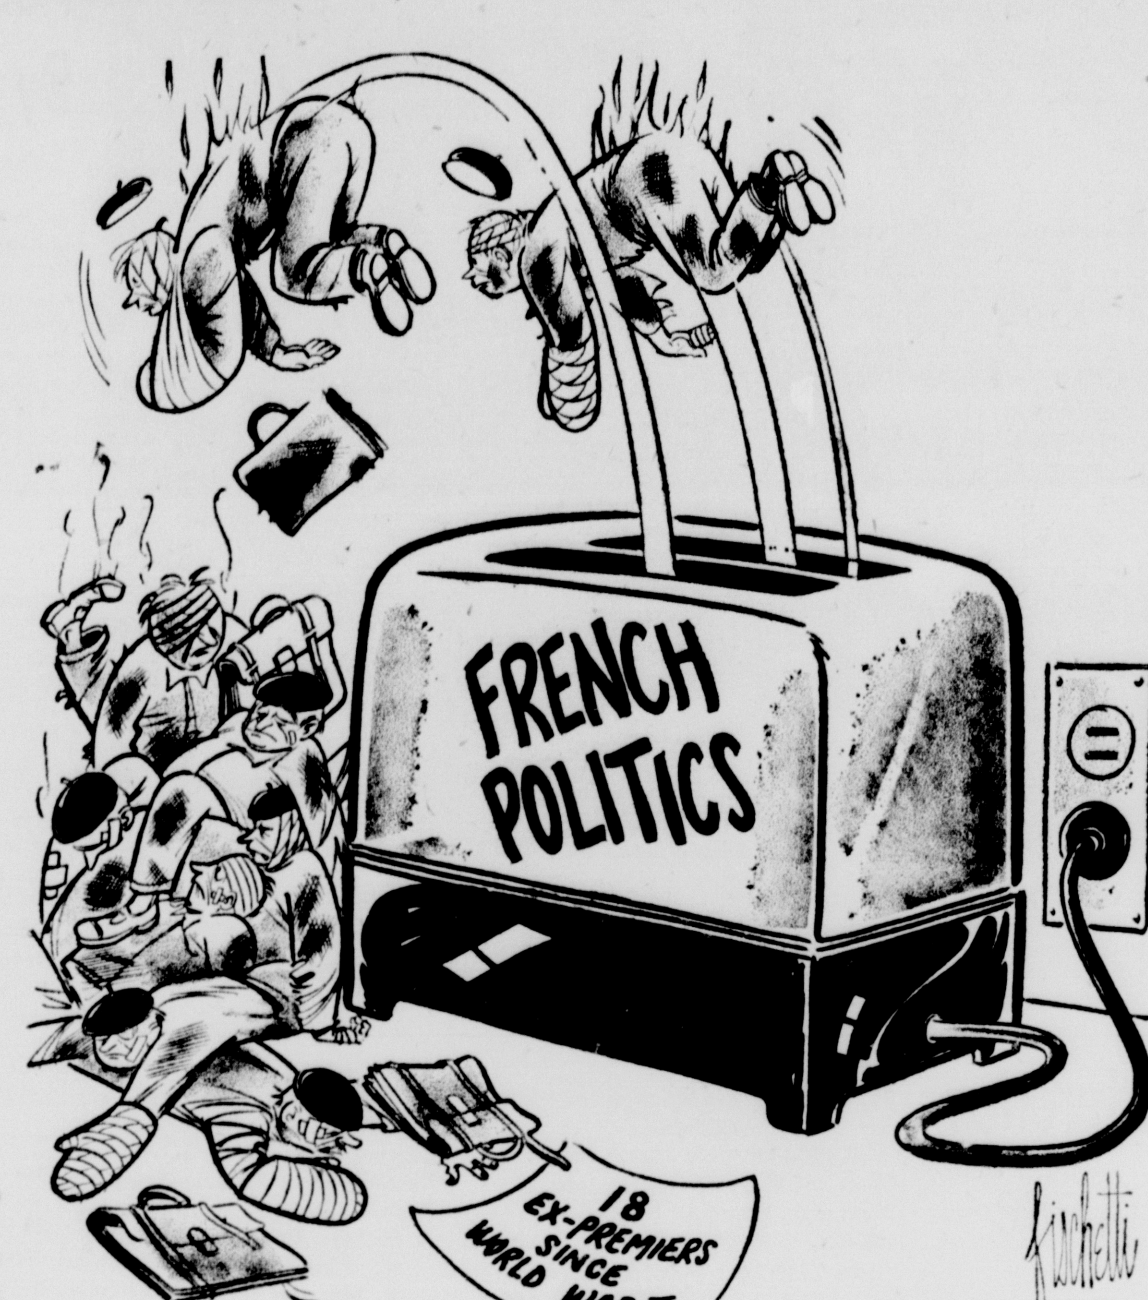

Manistique—Mrs. Ernest Nelson, wife of the former pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, who is now a chaplain in the U. S. Army, has been assuming the leadership of church activities in the absence of her husband.

20 YEARS AGO

Lansing—Murray D. Van Wagener, newly-elected Democratic state highway commissioner, has informed highway department employees here that their employment "is on a day-to-day basis." This indicates many changes in personnel, employees believe.

Escanaba—Wendell Lund, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. Albert Lund, has been appointed head of the English department of Augustana University at Rock Island, Ill.

Italy's Election Crazy Quilt; Pro-U.S. de Gasperi Confident

By LEON DENNEN

ROME—(NEA)—Only a rash prophet would predict the outcome of the June 7 elections in Italy, where the normally confusing politics have taken on a crazy quilt pattern this year.

But Alcide de Gasperi, 72-year-old premier, is confident he will win.

Pro-American de Gasperi is head of the Centrist coalition of Christian Democrats, Republicans, Christian Social Democrats, Republicans and liberals. To win, he must defeat the Communists and Nenni "Socialists" on the left, plus the Monarchists and the M.S.I., the fascist Italian Social Movement, on the right.

The Reds are giving him a run for his money—and Italy's democratic parties, including the premier's, are hard-pressed for campaign cash.

There is hardly a wall or fence in Rome that has not been plastered with Red posters. There are Communist placards even on ancient ruins and historic sites, including the statues of St. Peter and Emperor Marcus Aurelius.

The elections will cost the hard-pressed government about $10,000,000, with 6400 candidates running for 590 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and another 2000 seeking the 237 Senate posts.

There is one candidate running on a "beefsteak" platform who advocates a pound of beef a day for each citizen. He'll probably get a vote on June 7.

In Naples, Mayor Achille Lauro, chief of the anti-Red Monarchist party, distributes free spaghetti to potential voters.

Paradoxically, the reason he can afford to do so is reported to be his shipping firm's brisk and profitable trade with Red nations. But of late there have been many complaints about the quality of the Mayor's free spaghetti.

Russia is greasing the Italian Red campaign machine in round-about ways.

Italian police recently revealed that $250,000 worth of unexpended movie film, made in East Germany, found its way to Milan by way of Amsterdam. It was offered to Italian and American movie producers at 25 per cent below the Western market price.

Cash realized on the sale goes directly into the coffers of the Italian Communist party.

Cash is the root of difficulties facing de Gasperi's efficient government, for his problems are mainly economic.

There are 2,000,000 chronically unemployed Italians—with no possibility they will be absorbed by Italian economy. Difficulties are further aggravated by a top-heavy rearmament program.

But even de Gasperi's critics concede that after five years of Christian Democratic rule, Italy is now in better shape economically and morally than at any time since the end of the war. Life in Italy is now much cheaper than in France, Switzerland and England.

U.S. economic advisers of the Mutual Security Administration, who were openly and brutally critical of de Gasperi's overcautious economic program, are now more enthusiastic about the results. In five years, Italy has emerged as a major European power, and de Gasperi has become a leading and consistent champion of the European defense community and European unity. Only the question of Trieste continues to disturb relations between Italy and Tito's Yugoslavia.

Italians will never rest until they get all of Trieste back. It has become a point of national honor.

For the present there are signs—though this is a hazardous prediction—that the pro-Red and pro-Fascist votes may be somewhat reduced in the June elections.

A new electoral law gives 65 per cent of the seats in an electoral district to the party that obtains 50.1 per cent of the vote. This favors the pro-democratic Centrist coalition. But the political balance remains very precarious.

In the 1948 elections the Communists and their left-wing followers garnered 8,000,000 votes or

British Pay For Bach But Prefer Boogie

By ROBERT F. S. JONES

LONDON (AP)—You may prefer boogie to Bach or swing to Stravinsky—but if you live in Britain you have to pay for both Bach and Stravinsky whether you like them or not.

You don't have to pay much. It works out at about 3 cents a year—the price of a cup of tea or a cigarette—for every man, woman and child in Britain.

Subsidy For Culture For that you can call yourself a patron of culture. Your 3 cents appears in Britain's annual budget as a culture subsidy.

Even so the danger signals are flying for the arts in this country. The trouble is costs—which keep skyrocketing while box office figures stay static.

Take London's historic opera house, Covent Garden. Since it was rescued from its wartime fate as a dance hall and reconstituted in 1946, its opera company has staged Strauss' "Salome," with decor by Salvador Dali, and Alban Berg's "Wozzeck." Its resident ballet company—Sadlers Wells—is regarded as about the finest outside Russia.

But even if the house "full" notices are up—which is often—Covent Garden loses $1,500 a night.

Or take symphony orchestras. There are about 10 of them in London and the larger provincial towns. Ever since the war Britons have flocked to hear them. But a permanent symphony orchestra can count itself lucky if it gets through the year without losing at least $70,000.

Cost Going Up

For the last two years the council's annual grant from the Treasury out of taxes has been 575,000 pounds $1,610,000 but judging by rising costs everywhere this year it will have to ask for more.

"In its patronage of the arts the state has reached a 'point of no return,'" the council's annual report warned recently.

"If the council had not managed to put some surplus from its special Festival of Britain grant, many of the bodies it supports might be putting up the shutters by now."

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE BIG CHASE—Never having tried to trap or capture anything larger than a mouse it is not within our province to tell anyone how to put the handcuffs on the four convicts who escaped from state branch prison at Marquette.

But unless the wild stories and rumors stop it may fall upon us to go and round them up. They are—or were—too close to Escanaba for comfort. It has disrupted our routine. Let us have an end to this fearful uncertainty.

Last Saturday morning, for example, Escanaba police and one local resident were grappling hand-to-hand with one of the convicts. The police shot into the air when the convict fled down an alley.

How the convict got to Escanaba two days ahead of his pals we do not know. The others came along later in a stolen car. Perhaps the first one arrived by plane.

FRIGHTENED PEOPLE—The Saturday morning fracas occurred in dim light. No one was sure the suspect was one of the convicts. That is why police shot into the air instead of into the man.

The flash! bulletin! treatment given the incident alarmed a lot of Escanaba folks who weren't sure it was safe to go out of town over the weekend and leave the dog home alone.

One lady settled the frightening prospect by arithmetic. There are four convicts, she reasoned. Escanaba has several thousand homes. The possibility of one of the four coming to her house was mathematical remote.

So she went away for Memorial Day and didn't even lock the door.

MULTIPLICATION—One gentleman, after listening patiently to his radio for several hours, confided that he was somewhat puzzled.

"According to what I hear they have 18 of the four men surrounded in six different places."

At Cornell Sunday afternoon the big man hunt brought out hundreds of armed volunteers. But no one was captured and there were no casualties. The four convicts turned out to be three fishermen who didn't even know they were suspected.

Over the weekend several reports were received from several persons who saw "suspicious looking" men scurrying around at the edge of the woods in a number of locations. It all added up to the wildest and most exciting day since the Wright brothers flew the first airplane at Kittyhawk.

Peculiarly enough, those folks who were frightened by the promiximity to desperate convicts ready to shoot their way out, were matched by other folks who wanted to get close to the desperadoes' "hideout."

Officers had to keep shoving the curious crowds out of the way so they could conduct their search. At one time a couple youngsters came wandering out of the woods where the convicts were supposed to be lurking.

"Nobody in there," they reported contemptuously. "We looked all over!"

ORGANIZED MINORITY—The timid souls in town and country went to bed with drawn shades and shootin' irons under their pillows. They also locked the door.

One lady carefully collected all of her pots and pans at bedtime and arranged them in front of the doorways. Her theory was that should the convicts enter they would be trapped in stew kettles and double boilers and the clatter would awaken the household.

What she intended to do after that we do not know. The follow-through was in her husband's department. He could either capture them single-handed or pretend he hadn't heard a thing.

THE SERIOUS SIDE—Without intending to alarm anyone we would like to pass along a couple tips on what everyone can do to avert all dand comfort to the prison-breakers.

First, keep your car locked. Never leave it with the keys conveniently in the ignition switch. If the convicts don't get it, someone else might.

Second, lock your doors at night. The escapees might need food and money.

But don't drag out an old pistol or musket (or even new ones) and stand guard. You might make a mistake and shoot an innocent traveling salesman or the man next door who is coming home late and is too befuddled to read the house numbers.

May Restore Ford's Theater

WASHINGTON—A drab government office building here may once again become the famous theater it was on April 14, 1865, when Abraham Lincoln, attending a play, was shot and fatally wounded by John Wilkes Booth.

Congress is inquiring into the cost of restoring Ford's Theater on downtown 10th street just as it was on that tragic night, reports the National Geographic Society. The intent of the legislators is not to produce plays at Ford's again, but to make the entire building a national museum.

The government already operates the Lincoln Museum on the first floor. Approximately 150,000 visitors a year see the mementoes of Lincoln's career, and try to imagine the scene on the night that great career ended.

Building "Disappointing"

Proponents of the restoration bill say the old theater building now is "disappointing" despite its exhibits. They contend it should be made as authentic as the Petersen House across the street where Lincoln died and which has remained substantially unchanged in appearance.

There has been opposition to the restoration, on the ground it would be a "monument to an assassin." But National Park Service officials in charge of the museum feel that the theater, restored, would permit visitors to visualize the dramatic tragedy of Lincoln's death and hence to review his life in sharper focus.

At the present time, only diagrams drawn on the museum floor and a diorama of the theater as it originally looked show visitors how Booth entered the President's box, shot him in the head and escaped by leaping to the stage.

Ford's was considered one of the finest theaters in the country at the time Lincoln sat in one of four private boxes to see the comedy, "Our American Cousin." Rebuilt in 1863 after a fire, it seated nearly 1,700 persons. Outstanding actors and productions of the period appeared there.

Following the assassination, however, guards were posted at the doors, and all performances were ordered canceled. Later, plans to reopen the theater for plays met with such strong public disapproval that the Government again stepped in, first renting and then buying the building for $100,000.

Used By War Department

The theater was remodeled into a three story office building long used by the War Department. In 1893, 22 persons were killed and 68 injured when part of the building collapsed, but it was rebuilt and continued in use for offices.

In 1932, the famous Oldroyd collection of Lincolniana, previously exhibited in Springfield, Ill., and in the Petersen House, was moved to Ford's. Selections from this collection, plus more recent acquisitions, compose the museum exhibits now on view.

Although restoration would be hampered by lack of exact plans, old photographs show accurately the appearance of the stage and boxes. Any remodeling program would probably include improved exhibition facilities in the basement.

National Park Service officials say the seats and stage would be

No New Clues In Convict Hunt

Law enforcement agencies throughout this area ran down tip after tip about the escaped convicts during the past 24 hours but all came to nothing, Michigan State Police of the Gladstone post said this morning.

Up to 1 p. m. today there was no new clue that definitely placed the convicts in this area since the discovery Tuesday morning of a bill for advertising from a Skandia tavern from which the convicts stole money and goods earlier in their escape attempt.

Last night and today Michigan State Police squad cars and a sheriff's department car moved along main highways and back-country roads. State police planes watched the area from the air. Troopers who have been on long hours since the search began caught a minimum of sleep and returned to duty. Troopers from every part of the state beat the brush in lonely wooded areas, stood guard on road blockades, or, rifles beside them, sped in squad cars to investigate one suspicious occurrence after another.

A report was received late this morning that a set of footprints had been discovered near a farm-house in Flat Rock, near the intersection of County Road 412 (the Soo Hill Road) and County Road C-5, Michigan State Police at once dispatched cars to the scene.

Last night about 9:30 state police, sheriff's men and conservation officers, pistols and rifles in hand, searched buildings at the Fair Grounds. A tip that an unidentified man had been seen near the WDBC tower near the Fair Grounds was checked, but the man proved to be the WDBC engineer on his nightly rounds.

Yesterday afternoon a truck driver reported he saw a man stick his head out of a gondola on a freight train heading out of Escanaba toward Quinnesec. Investigation uncovered "a couple of bums getting a free ride," state police said.

Michigan State Police urged anyone who thinks he has a lead, has seen something or someone which might provide a clue, to communicate at once with the Gladstone post at Gladstone 4231. If a tip seems insubstantial to the person who discovers it, he should phone it in anyway, troopers said. Every person who phones in a tip is treated with respect, for his tip might be the turning point in the 13-day-long chase. No tip is too small for investigation, troopers emphasized.

Pontiac Mother Shot In Quarrel

PONTIAC (AP)—Mrs. Ellen Baxter, 19-year-old attractive blond mother of an 18-month-old daughter, was shot to death last night in her apartment.

Her husband, Gilbert, 22, admitted he had the gun in his possession at the time and the shooting climaxed an argument over his wife had been "running around" with another man. But he denied the shooting was intentional.

"The gun went off but I don't know how," Baxter told Police Chief Herbert Straley. "I never intended to kill her, I wouldn't hurt her for anything in the world."

Baxter claimed that after the argument "We settled our differences and everything was hunky-dory." His wife then told him to "come on over and kiss me," but "when I went to lower the hammer the gun went off."

The daughter, Valerie, was sleeping in a bedroom at the time. She was taken to a hospital for the night after the husband was jailed for questioning.

The charge, from a 30-30 deer rifle, ripped off the back of Mrs. Baxter's head.

Agriculture Staff Reorganization Sure Of House Approval

sharpest opposition. Rep. Cooley (D-NC), senior Democrat on the House Agriculture Committee, called it a "power grab" and an attack on existing farm programs.

Of 20 agencies in the Agriculture Department, the functions of 10 already are under direct jurisdiction of the secretary.

The reorganization plan would permit Benson to take full authority over six of the remaining 10—the Rural Electrification Administration, Farmers Home Administration, Soil Conservation Service, the Forest Service, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and the office of the solicitor.

Cooley, attacking the plan in the House yesterday, said it "calls for more power than any good man should want, and more than any bad man should have."

"No one questions the character of Secretary Benson," he said. "But everyone seems to question his competency. I don't question his purity, but I do question his purpose. I am inclined to say, here comes a pious prince riding a Trojan horse."

Cooley said Benson didn't know why he wanted it or what he would do with it when he got it. Benson has said he does not know what shifts he will make.

"I have an idea," Cooley declared, "a great number of people will be discharged, and then at a later date a greater number will be employed. And I have an idea they will be of 'another political faith.'"

Adventists Meet In Wilson Campsite June 4 To June 7

Delegates representing all of the Seventh-day Adventist churches in Michigan's Upper Peninsula will assemble for a three day camp meeting at the Wilson Campsite, 20 miles southwest of Escanaba, June 4-7.

The campmeeting, historic method of religious convention, was first employed by Michigan Adventists in 1868 on a small campsite near Coopersville. Its basic purpose was to bring a greater strength and unity to the church membership as well as to place a renewed emphasis on spiritual values.

Thursday evening's opening service at this year's Wilson conclave will feature a special missions report by Dr. G. E. Hutches, president of the Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Recently returned from an analytical tour of South American mission fields, Dr. Hutches will present in word and cinecolor picture the development and effect of Christian missions in that neighbor continent.

Speakers Friday will include Elder E. E. Burkett, newly-elected principal of the church-sponsored boarding academy at Cedar Lake; Hugh J. Forquer, representative of the Review & Herald Publishing Association, Washington, D. C.; and Elder R. G. Campbell, Berrien Springs, director of religious book sales in the Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin areas.

In addition, there will be reports by Lansing directors of the various phases of the church's work in Michigan including the departments of missionary activities, education, youth's projects and the Sabbath School.

Saturday, the day kept holy by Seventh-day Adventists round the world, will be spent in special worship services.

Wife Wants $20,000 From Actor Husband To Investigate Him
LOS ANGELES (AP)—His estranged wife has asked actor John Wayne to finance a $20,000 investigation of himself.

Summing up his plea for Mrs. Esperanza Wayne, Atty. Jerome Rosenthal said the money is needed to employ investigators to check Wayne's activities.

Any evidence would be presented against the actor later when his wife's separate maintenance suit comes up in October.

At present she's asking $9,350 monthly temporary alimony. Wayne has offered $900 a month.

Rosenthal told the court he needs the funds to hire detectives. He says he expects to prove Wayne guilty of unspecified "misconduct" in Honolulu, Mexico City and Acapulco.

"The people involved are known by description but not by name," he said. "Therefore, extensive investigations must be made and later on depositions must be taken to uncover the facts."

Judge William B. McKay indicated he'll make a decision in the current hearing tomorrow.

Hello-Girls Win Shorts In Strike

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—It was a short walkout for 63 telephone operators here—and the outcome was just as short.

Local and long distance operators now may wear shorts at their work.

The Southern Bell Telephone Company agreed to this Tuesday in working out a "heat relief" program with the CIO Communication Workers of America, CWA operators walked out Monday.

But the telephone operators are to wear their shorts only inside the building—and no bare mid-ribs, please.

Also, the company agreed to serve refreshing drinks when needed, to place tubs of ice in front of electric fans, and to make proper adjustment of fans and windows.

The operators walked out Monday in what they said was 93 degree temperature. During their 26-hour walkout most of Gulfport's 10,000 telephones were idle.

Cost Of Living Raise Granted To 43,000 By Fords

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. announced it has revised its cost of living allowance for about 43,000 salaried employees, effective June 1.

Most employees will receive a $33 a month boost transferred from the old cost-of-living allowance and a new $26 raise based on the cost-of-living allowance for the June through August quarter.

The company said all future adjustments will be based on a formula tied to the new consumer price index issued by the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Salaried employees also will get a three per cent boost in the improvement factor. The revisions are in line with certain wage gains made by hourly employees.

President Makes Debut Over TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower makes his first television report to the people tonight, apparently to bear down on the idea that in such perilous times spending must come down, but not too much and taxes remain up.

Four Cabinet members will be on the program, too, taking their cues from the President and from big printed cards outside camera range.

The broadcast is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., Central Standard Time.

Reports were there might be some word on a new "goldfish bowl policy" of publicity for tax enforcement cases, perhaps to emphasize that the administration is trying to clean up what Eisenhower has called "the mess in Washington."

But there were no advance signs the half-hour TV show would produce any major announcements. The White House says the program is intended largely to tell the people what the administration has done, and why, in its first four months.

All four TV networks will carry the program. Along with the President, it will star Atty. Gen. Brownell, Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Hobby.

Suggestions For Cut In VA Funds Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's suggestion that funds for veterans' hospitalization be cut during the fiscal year starting July 1 has been rejected tentatively in the House Appropriations Committee.

Committee members said they have decided to recommend about seven million dollars more for this purpose than former President Truman had requested in his January budget message. The Truman request for approximately 550 million was scaled down about 28 million by Eisenhower.

The action is tentative. The decision of a subcommittee, it is subject to confirmation by the full committee next week.

Nursing Bottle Lore Scientific

WASHINGTON (P)—Parents: Next time junior's bottle stops up and he splits the night with his howls, take heart.

You have not faced this crisis alone. The Smithsonian Institution is authority for the disclosure that no fewer than 72 patents have been issued to inventors of special types of air vents to keep the formula flowing smoothly from the bottle into junior. The nonstopable nipple, if indeed it has not already been invented, may be just around the corner.

This and other facets of nursing bottle lore are offered the public in an exhibit the institution has just opened on the evolution of nursery necessities. The bottle accounts for 232 patents.

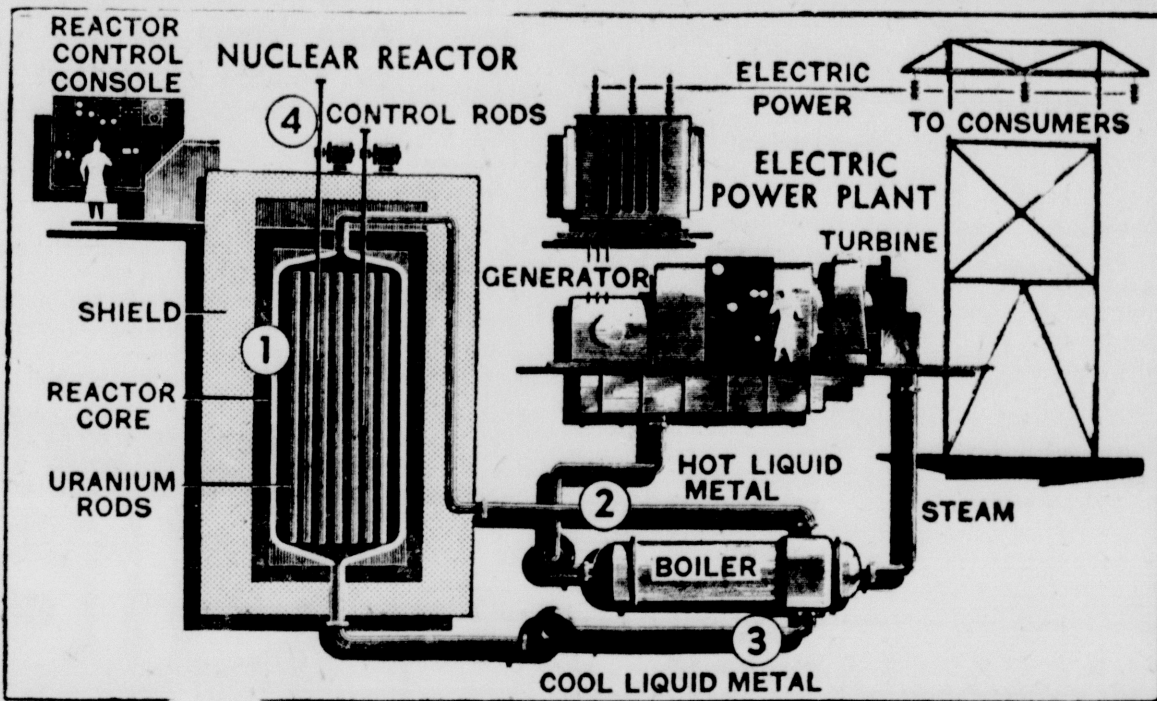

The rise and fall of the long sucking tube is depicted. It was patented in 1864 as an invention designed so that a baby "can take the reservoir in its arms and the spout in the mouth," but lost popularity after 50 years.

Charles M. Winship of Roxbury, Mass., obtained the first nursing bottle patent in the U. S. in 1841. The first rubber nipple was patented four years later. In the interval, nipples were of ivory or silver—the latter perhaps for infants born with silver spoons in their mouths.

July Draft Call 1,237 For Michigan

The July call is the lowest since June, 1952, when 449 men were inducted.

HERE'S ATOM-POWERED ELECTRIC PLANT

Diagram above shows an atomic energy reactor that can produce electricity for peacetime use. It is a proposed "pilot plant" designed by North American Aviation at its Oxnard, Calif., plant for the Atomic Energy Commission. Atomic fission in the reactor (left) produces heat. This is absorbed by liquid metal (1) passing through the reactor core. The hot liquid metal is then piped (2) to a water boiler where steam is produced. The steam drives a turbine generator, producing electricity. Cooled liquid metal is returned (3) to the reactor core. Control rods (4), usually of cadmium, are the "throttle" of atomic pile. They prevent chain reaction from running wild. This proposed atomic energy plant, which would cost an estimated $10 million, could produce 8000 kilowatts of electricity, enough to supply 2000 homes.

Los Angeles Woman Held Up And Robbed At Point Of Needle

LOS ANGELES (P)—A woman told police she was held up and kidnapped and robbed at the point of a hypodermic needle.

Mrs. Alvina Allen, 52, said that as she got into her car in front of a bank Monday, a man demanded she give him a ride.

He produced a hypodermic needle filled with a yellow fluid and said:

"You're going where I want you to go or I'll give you the needle."

After she drove to the Santa Monica Mountains, the man ordered her to stop and took her watch, a $400 diamond solitaire and $600 cash. She said he jabbed her lightly with the needle and threatened to visit her again if she should call the police.

He left in a car which had stopped nearby.

At Santa Monica Hospital officials said three needle pricks were injected in her left arm, but there was no indication anything had been injected.

Resort Owners See Big Vacation Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (P)—Vacation time starts a faster pace this month as resort owners anticipate their biggest year.

Incomes are higher for many people. Factories are granting longer vacations and more paid holidays. More factory workers than ever will be hitting the road.

In some cases factories will be closed for longer periods this year. That will affect industrial production figures, especially in July. And the steel industry believes this may give it an assist in catching up on its backlog of orders.

Teachers Hunt Jobs But not all of the citizenry is included in this happy vacation prospect. More teachers than usual will be looking for summer jobs. "Industry will have more manpower this summer in the thousands of teachers harassed by inflation and low salaries," says Arthur C. Croft, publisher of Teacher's Letter, a Washington, D. C., fortnightly. Questioning 25,000 teachers around the country, the paper reports 50 per cent said they would work this summer.

Factory workers, however, are fast catching up this year with clerical workers in paid vacation privileges, according to the National Foremen's Institute. Collective bargaining this year is breaking through the traditional pattern of "one week after one year's service and two weeks after five," the institute says.

Paid Holidays Increase The institute says nearly 95 per cent of the nation's corporations have some form of paid vacation.

"In general," it finds, "clerical employees get a better break on vacations than do production workers. But the differences are bound to disappear in the normal course of collective bargaining pressures."

The paid holiday issue is to the fore this year, with much attention to holidays that fall on Saturday—like the recent Memorial Day and the upcoming Fourth of July. Some companies are granting paid Saturday holidays.

The number of paid holidays keeps going up in industry.

Near East, South Asia Threatened With Red Seizure, Says Dulles

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles returned from his survey trip to the Near East and South Asia declaring that this strategic area, like China, could fall victim to Communist domination.

"The situation calls for urgent concern," Dulles said in a nationally broadcast and televised report on his 20,000-mile tour of 12 countries.

He said he found the United States "suspect" because of its alliance with France and Britain, countries suspected by some non-Europeans of trying to restore their colonial interests. The Arabs, he said, harbor a "deep resentment" against this country and are "more fearful of Zionism (the Jewish state) than of communism."

Calls for Action

Saying that the U. S. had given most of its postwar attention to the "very important, but not all-important" Western European area Dulles observed, "It is high time that the U. S. government paid more attention to the Near East and South Asia."

"It came as a surprising shock when the 450 million Chinese people, whom we had counted as friends, fell under Communist domination," he continued. "There could be equally dangerous developments in the Near East and South Asia. The situation calls for urgent concern."

Among Dulles' conclusions were:

1. "Western powers can gain rather than lose from an orderly development of self-government."
2. "The U. S. should honor the 'proud peoples' of the area and can, without breaking from the framework of Western unity, pursue its traditional dedication to political liberty.

2. The U. S. can help raise living standards "not with masses of money but by contributing advanced technical knowledge about transport, communication, fertilization and the use of water for irrigation."

Defense Pact Needed

3. To reassure Arabs, it must be made clear that the Eisenhower administration stands firmly behind the 1950 declaration that the U. S., Britain and France will not permit any violation of frontiers or armistice lines by either Israel or the Arab states. The U. S. will use appropriate means to reduce tension.

It is up to the countries involved to promote a Middle East defense organization, "a future possibility" and meantime the U. S. can help strengthen the interrelated defenses of those countries which want strength.

Dulles said his conferences with Gen. Naguib in Egypt convinced him the Egyptian quarrel with Britain over the Suez area can be settled.

The same is true, he said, about the bitter dispute between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

Brandy Hijacker Gang Sentenced

HAZELBROUCK, France (AP) — A French court has sentenced 11 men and women to jail terms in one of the strangest liquor hijacking cases in French history.

For 19 years, the gang siphoned thousands of gallons of French brandy out of huge distillery vats by the simple method of underground pipe lines.

The jail terms ranged from five years to six months, and eight of the gang were fined.

Then French justice took one of its own peculiar turns. It condemned the La Gorgue Distillery for failing to prevent the theft, which at times went as high as 2,000 gallons of brandy a month, and fined it 330,418,300 francs $940,000 in back taxes on the alcohol.

The underground pipelines ran from the distillery to a garage across the road. A lot of the brandy found its way to nearby Belgium.

Estranged Movie Couple Reunited

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Film producer Walter Wanger and his actress wife, Joan Bennett, estranged after he shot her agent in December, 1951, have applied for passports for a European tour.

The application, filed Monday, indicated they will leave late next month on a six-month trip through Italy, France, Switzerland and England. Their children, Stephanie, 8, and Shelley, 4, will go with them.

Wanger disclosed last month that he had been living for six months in his wife's Holmby Hills residence, but he would not discuss details of a reconciliation.

He wounded Jennings Lang Dec. 13, 1950, declaring the agent was "breaking up" his marriage to Miss Bennett. The latter said her dealings with the agent were strictly business.

Wanger served 102 days of a four-month jail sentence after conviction of assault with a deadly weapon. He is again engaged in movie production.

Commencement Exercises

Commencement for the Grand Marais graduating class of 1953 was held in the High School auditorium. Following the processional, the invocation was given by Rev. Willard Handrich. A mixed chorus number preceded the salutatorian speech by Robert Niemi. Valedictorian James Carter addressed his classmates, teachers, parents and friends with a fitting commencement speech. Superintendent Vernon Maurer introduced the speaker of the evening, Prof. S. P. Young of Soo Tech. Prof. Young gave the graduates some very expert advice on the continuation of their careers, whatever they might be, and in reaching success in whatever they chose to do. President of the schoolboard, Sayre Ostrander presented the graduates with their diplomas. Regina Peterson rendered a piano solo "Narcissus" which was followed by the Benediction by Rev. Handrich and the recessional.

Graduating members were James Carter, Robert Niemi, Carol Roberts, William Bailey, Alan Herbert, Guy Block and A/2c Jack Wood. The class motto—"In God We Trust." The exercise were followed by a graduation dance sponsored by the Woman's Club. The seniors will leave June 6 on their trip to Washington, D. C.

Decendants Of Bounty Mutineers Live On

WASHINGTON — Descendants of the sea's best known mutineers, the English sailors who took the Bounty away from Captain Bligh in 1789 have turned the once grim convict settlement of Norfolk Island into a South Sea paradise.

With their Tahitian wives, the Bounty's mutineers, as everyone knows, found haven on lonely Pitcairn Island in the Pacific. Few are aware, however, that in 1856 their descendants were transferred en masse from crowded Pitcairn to Norfolk in the Tasman Sea, 400 miles northeast of New Zealand.

Forty Went Back

Come forty of the Bounty folk grew homesick after a few years and went back to Pitcairn, reports the National Geographic Society. The rest remained on Norfolk. Today they compose the bulk of 1,100 islanders who raise fruits, vegetables and livestock in a semi-tropical climate so benign that farming takes little work.

Norfolk was discovered by the English seafarer Captain James Cook in 1774. It was one of the few instances in which European explorers found a far island that apparently had never had a native population.

Five miles long and three miles wide, Norfolk was thickly forested with huge, straight pines. Some were 200 feet tall and 30 feet in circumference. British elation at finding such a stand of spar timber for ships changed to disappointment; weakened by knots, the trees made poor masts. So instead of lumbermen and spar makers, England sent convicts. Desperate men whiled away time by building elaborate stone quarters for themselves and their guards. Riot and murder were the order of the day. The gallows were kept busy. In 1853, the London government broke up the settlement, and three years later turned the island over to the Bounty people.

Eight Families Augmented

From Jitairn came only eight names: Adams, Christian, Young, Evans, McCoy, Quintal, Buffet and Nobbs. Additional ones have been brought in by retired Australians and New Zealanders. Before they could become residents of Norfolk, these people had to prove to the Australian government, which administers the island, that they would not become public charges before newly acquired banana plantations or flocks of sheep became productive.

A few United States servicemen were stationed on the island during World War II. Their job was to build an airfield which now accommodates four-engine transports from Australia, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands. At least one American, a former Marine, went to Norfolk Island as a settler after the war.

Vacationists are coming from Australia and New Zealand in increasing numbers. Norfolk has good swimming, fishing and hiking. Understandably, many want

Governor And Family Escape Ducking When Houseboat Takes List

NEWAYGO (AP)—Gov. Williams and a party of eight others including his wife Nancy and son Gary, 13, narrowly escaped a ducking and possible disaster Sunday when a houseboat threatened to capsize in Muskegon River.

Dick Black, secretary of the Newaygo chamber of commerce and only witness to the narrow escape, related the incident.

Black said the small house boat, owned and skippered by Nels Chamberlain, began to list and take on water in midstream above the Newaygo Dam soon after the party had left shore. The water flooded the motor which conked out and left the craft helpless.

Black prepared to go to the rescue in a small boat but Chamberlain finally got the motor started again and edged the craft toward shore.

Black tossed a rope from shore to the houseboat and helped to anchor it until those aboard could reach safety.

Surplus Grains Again Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farm problem generally credited with helping Harry S. Truman win the 1948 presidential election is bobbing up again to torment the Republican party and its new national administration.

It is the problem of finding enough storage space to handle the nation's surplus of grains.

Largely because of a prospect that there will be a shortage of suitable storage facilities, wheat and other grain prices have been tumbling in recent weeks.

Right now, wheat for July delivery is being quoted on the Chicago market for about $2 a bushel, nearly 50 cents a bushel below the level the Agriculture Department is committed to support prices.

At this same time in 1948, wheat and other grain prices started skidding. A storage shortage was blamed. The Truman administration said the Republican 80th Congress had stripped the government of authority to provide storage facilities. Democrats drummed on this issue during the campaign. A strong Truman vote in the Midwestern farm belt helped defeat GOP nominee, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

When storage is ample, prices usually hold close to price support levels. Conversely, when there is a lack of storage, prices usually fall below support levels.

The reason for this is that a grower can get the benefit of the price support only if he has acceptable storage for his grains.

Where Do Michigan Highway Taxes Go?

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

LANSING (AP)—By no means all of the money you pay in gasoline and weight taxes goes for state highways, and even after substantial bites are taken out of it less than half of what is left goes into the actual building of state roads.

In examining the $218,490,099 collected in highway taxes in the two years ending June 30, 1952, we have found that all but $97,408,920 was gobbled up by local governments and collection costs.

To the total left for state purposes were added federal aid, a contribution by Detroit and Wayne County for their share of expressway construction and miscellaneous fees and collections to bring the total available to the state in the period to $124,226,861.

Bridges Expensive Too
The first thing we have to remember is that even if there were no administrative and maintenance costs, you can't spend all this money for straight highway construction.

There is the little matter of bridges, railroad and highway overpasses and underpasses, railroad crossings and the like. In the two years we are looking at, this item came to $19,892,512.

Now some of the other things that have to come out before we start building highways:

We have to maintain existing highways, bridges, the state ferries, and all the rest of the facilities. We also have to remove the snow in winter. This all cost us $36,479,580 in the two years.

Administration of the department, a public relations division, making up the deficit on the Straits of Mackinac ferries, construction for the Civil Service commission and the attorney general's department assistance to the highway department, contributions to employees' retirement, etc., cost us $8,701,173.

Three Inches For $1
This all comes to $65,073,265, and since we started out with $124,226,861 available to the state for highway purposes, we come at long last to the figure of $59,153,596 we can use in the two years for actual highway construction.

And here is what the state highway department did with it.

Built 367 miles of new federal aid roads.

Built 181 miles of federal aid secondary roads.

Built and repaired 1,715 miles of state and federal roads without federal aid.

Built several shore erosion protection structures to keep highways from falling into the swollen Great Lakes.

Resurfaced 463 miles of existing roads.

So for $59,153,596 in two years, we got 2,728 miles of new or rebuilt roads plus some important shore protection.

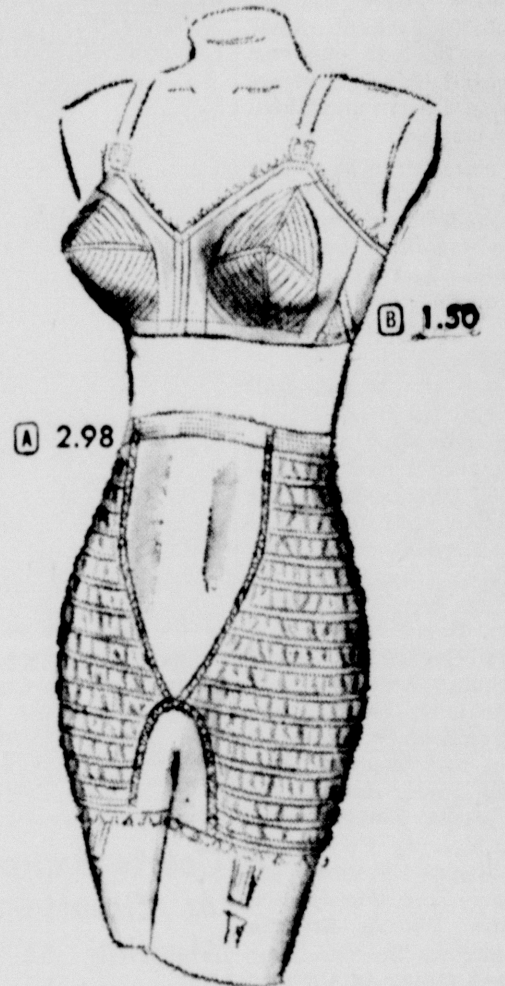

New Swing Fatal

HOPKINTON, Ia. (AP)—Paul Ehlt, 6, stood by eagerly while a new metal swing was erected in his yard here.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ehlt, was happily swinging away when the metal framework suddenly toppled over, striking him in the back. He died a few hours later at a Monticello, Ia., hospital.

Or for each $1 of money available we got about three inches of road.

Nelson gave interesting historical data concerning the acquiring of the first acreage for the cemetery plot. The Mixed Chorus of high school students sang two numbers. Invocation was given by Lay Pastor Phil Lindblom of Salem Lutheran, Benediction by the Rev. J. J. Dunleavy of St. George's, and a prayer by Archie Wood, Cloverland Post chaplain. At the close of the service open house was held and lunch was served by the women of the church.

International Affairs Occupy B. & P. W. Clubs

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. reports a recent upsurge of interest in international affairs among groups and communities that hitherto have been chiefly pre-occupied with local problems.

Surveying the situation through its 2850 clubs located in all parts of the country, Hawaii and Alaska, the Federation reports that the greatest percentage of increased interest has developed in the smaller cities and towns.

Mrs. Esther W. Hymer, Official Observer at the United Nations for The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, states:

"Oddly enough the interest in international affairs has been fanned by certain individuals and groups who are beating tom-toms of antagonism against the United Nations. Their efforts to discredit that organization actually are working in reverse. If reports from our own clubs are an indication, all kinds of organizations are making the study of international affairs a major project. They are determined to sift the facts for themselves and make up their own minds on the subject."

United Nations

"Our National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs is focussing attention on the positive accomplishments of the United Nations. These too often are ignored in discussions on what has not been achieved. As the best shield against false propaganda our clubs are assigning themselves research projects on what is being done to improve living conditions and well being of people as the result of United Nations' efforts—how malaria has been reduced 85% in Greece—how Siam is producing an improved kind of rice—for example, in Brazil, four out of five children had never tasted milk until the United Nations Children's Fund installed a dehydrating plant for manufacturing powdered milk—a project which the Brazilian government has taken over."

Some of the State Federations are financing the bringing here of women leaders from other lands to observe methods we use in particular areas of work so that they may aid in improving conditions among their own people. The Ohio Federation has contributed a UNESCO Fellowship to finance the studies of a librarian from Holland, Alabama, California, Georgia, New York, Oregon and Pennsylvania are among State Federations assisting students from other countries. Many local clubs are assisting the UNESCO Gift Coupon plan, whereby coupons are purchased and sent to the women's universities of the Philippines which can use them as cash in buying necessary supplies. Other clubs are sending clothing to the German Youth Centers to assist young people escaping from the Eastern zone.

Financial Aid
The Federation World Friendship Fund gives financial aid to business and professional women from other countries who seek to add to their value by visiting here, but are handicapped by the limited amount of currency they are able to take from their own countries. Many more are being offered hospitality and assistance as they travel through the country on the exchange of persons program.

In practical ways of this sort the clubs are supplementing what the United Nations is aiming to do—to bring about a closer understanding among the peoples of every land.

Polls show that 87% of the American people are eager for the United Nations to succeed and are resisting the pressure of groups that are boring into some communities with the object of supplanting international cooperation with isolationism."

The couple will renew their marriage vows at an anniversary high mass at 9:30 a. m. at St. Joseph's Church in Perkins. Their attendants of 25 years ago, Mrs. Paul Ramseth, the former Olga Larson, who is a sister of Mr. Larson, and Louis Carr, brother of Mrs. Larson, will be present at the service.

The religious observance will be followed by an open house at the family home during which they will receive relatives and friends during the remainder of the day.

June Is Best Strawberry Month In Michigan

June is the big strawberry month in Michigan. The peak of the homegrown season usually arrives during the second and third weeks of the month, says George Mott, agricultural marketing specialist at Michigan State College. Berries from Alpena county and other northern sections of the state extend the homegrown season through July, while a considerable volume from Houghton county in the Upper Peninsula carries the season into August. Southwestern Michigan, however, is the principal strawberry area in the state, so the harvest season there is the "best buy" period for homefreezing and preserving.

Most homemakers know how to recognize good quality strawberries—clean, bright colored, moisture-free berries with full red color and caps attached. Over-ripe strawberries, or those that are not really fresh, have a dull lusterless appearance, are sometimes shrunk and are likely to be wet or leaky. Small misshapen berries are usually poor in quality and flavor and often have a small, hard, green portion.

Protect the good quality of the berries you buy—don't wash or stem the strawberries until just before you use them. This avoids

Escanaba Couples Celebrate Double Silver Wedding

A large number of relatives and friends gathered Saturday evening to surprise Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ottensman and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Lemke on the occasion of their double silver wedding anniversary. Mrs. Ottensman and Mrs. Lemke are sisters.

Miss Irma Paul played the wedding march as the honor couples entered the hall. Corsages were presented Mrs. Lemke and Mrs. Ottensman.

A short program was given. Clyde Moersch, acting chairman, gave a short talk followed by a reading from the Scriptures. David Pinezek played two saxophone numbers accompanied by Miss Paul who also played piano selections.

Games followed with high in sheephead going to Adolph Paul and second to Mrs. Frank Hartwig. In canasta Mrs. Henry Meunier was high and Mrs. Sophia Peters, second, and in five hundred, Theodore Makosky received the first prize, and Arnold Ottensman, second. The guest award went to Ralph Ottensman.

The main table was attractively set with apple blossoms as the centerpiece. Silver candles and silver doilies carried out the anniversary theme and a tiered wedding cake was at each end of the table.

The couples were each presented with a purse of silver.

The evening celebration was followed by a family dinner party at the Dells Supper Club Sunday. The two couples were married May 3, 1928 at Salem Ev. Lutheran Church in Escanaba and have lived here since. The Ottensmans have one daughter, Mary Ann, of Escanaba. Mr. and Mrs. Lemke's family includes a son, Donald, of Escanaba and a daughter, Lois, of Milwaukee who was home for the occasion.

The Gladstone Bungalow team suffered its first defeat in American League softball competition last night at Memorial Field, dropping a 5-4 decision to White Birch.

The loss dropped Bungalow out

Kiwanis Posts 11-5 Victory

Although they collected only two hits, the Kiwanis baseball players made the most of seven Insurance Association errors and five bases on balls to post an 11-5 win in Little Bigger League play at Memorial Field last night.

John Vadnais worked the distance on the Insurance mound. Kiwanis runners aided their cause by stealing nine bases.

In spite of that the Insurance team was in the running all the time. They had the bases loaded on numerous occasions but couldn't get the big hit. They collected six hits and had seven walks off Bob Stropich who went the route for the winners.

It was the season's opener for both teams who were rained out of the season's inaugural last weekend.

Davey Wins In Comeback Bout

FT. WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Chuck Davey, the left-handed boxing slugger, danced away from mauler Sammy Mastrean Tuesday night to win his second comeback victory.

The unanimous decision may put the Michigan State graduate in line for a bout with Billy Graham and then perhaps a second shot at welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

The Pittsburgh welterweight forced the fighting most of the 10 rounds but he never could tag Davey solidly. He opened a cut over Davey's right eye in the sixth.

There were no knockouts, although Mastrean slipped to the canvas twice. Davey weighed 149 pounds and Mastrean 150.

A crowd of 6,000 packed Fort Wayne's new memorial coliseum for the first fight to be staged there.

Preliminary results:
Chuck Speiser, 173, of Detroit, knocked out Sonny Wickett, 168, of Cleveland, in the third round.

Jed Black, 147, Janesville, Wis., won by a technical knockout in the fifth round over Sammy Stuart, 151, of Toledo.

Billy Gordon, 158, of Akron, O., decided Irish Pat Clary, 158, of Toledo, in the four rounds.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

Two Little League practice sessions are scheduled for this evening with Kiwanis working out at Webster at 6 and St. Joe Boosters at Dock at 6.

Peter Pan Handicap To Draw Top 3-Year-Olds

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven 3-year-olds, 10 of them eligible for the $100,000 Belmont Stakes June 13, will meet today in the $25,000-added Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont Park.

The Saxon Stable's Invigorator, under top weight of 123 pounds, is expected to be made the favorite at 3 to 1 as Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer stays in his barn to await the Belmont next week.

Tahitian King
Ben F. Whitaker's Tahitian King, who finished second to Native Dancer in the Wood Memorial just ahead of Invigorator, is next in the weights with 120 pounds.

Invigorator finished third in the Kentucky Derby behind Dark Star and Native Dancer, but skipped the Preakness won by the Vanderbilt ace. Native Dancer and the Spring Hill Farm's Jamie K., second in the Preakness, will renew their duel in the mile and one-half Belmont Stakes.

Dark Star Retired

With Dark Star retired due to an injury, the Cain Holy Stable will send Count Cain, a brown son of Count Fleet, after the mile and one-eighth Peter Pan. Count Cain has 112 pounds today.

The Rokeby Stable's Magic Lane, second to Native Dancer in the Gotham Stakes, has 114 pounds in the Peter Pan and a good showing by this son of Alibhai would qualify him for a crack at the Dancer in the Belmont.

Others entered today are the Greentree Stable's Powhatan, 111; Maine Chance Farm's Flight Cloud, 105; the Warbern Stable's Sickle's Sound, 114; Jack Amiel's Sun Warrior, 107; C. V. Whitney's Fly Wheel, 115; the Brookfield Farm's Isasmoothie, 118; and Ogden Phipps Bassano, 108. Sickle's Sound is eligible for the Belmont.

HiWay Tavern in their last start.

Five-Run Inning

White Birch tripped Bungalow on the strength of a five-run second inning. The Bungalows had a 1-0 lead after the first frame and scored two runs in the third to narrow the deficit to 5-3. The Gladstone players put another run across in the fifth but couldn't close the final gap on White Birch.

Franny and Leo Lancour shared mound chores for White Birch while Gene Verhamme went the route for the Bungalows.

In the other game last night Paper Mill whipped Kessler's 14-4 with Wally Flath providing the heavy wood at the plate. He belted two inside-the-park home runs, and added a double and a single in five trips to the plate.

George Eastman and Paul Larson combined on the Paper Mill mound for a three-hit pitching performance. Chuck Gouin was the victim of the Paper Mill outburst.

In the Thursday night opener the Dells will be seeking to even its record at 2-2. Clairmont Transfer enters the game with a .500 rating on two wins, two defeats.

New York Giants Camp Set For Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN—The fourth annual New York Giants baseball tryout camp will be held here June 18-19-20, it was announced yesterday by Ray Lucas, scout.

The camp will be held at the Kingsford city diamond as in previous years.

All young baseball players from the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin are invited to attend the three-day session. Last year about 80 young players attended the camp.

Players reporting to the camp are required to bring their own uniforms, shoes and gloves. The Giants will provide the bats, balls and catching equipment.

In the event a player is signed by the Giants to a minor league contract, he will be reimbursed for traveling and other expenses during his stay at the camp. School players are permitted to attend the camp without jeopardizing their athletic careers.

However, major league rules stipulate that high school players cannot be approached about contracts until they are graduated.

During the three days there will be morning and afternoon sessions with intra-squad games scheduled in the afternoons. The annual all-star game, which concluded the three previous camps, also is planned.

Lucas will be assisted this year by Erick Kitsman, coach at the Menasha, Wis., High School.

Packers Have Signed 30 Football Players

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Green Bay Packers counted an even thirty signed players today, with the official registration of two sleepers—tackle Joe Berkich of the University of West Virginia and guard tackle Jim Sanford of Louisiana State University.

Thirteen of the signees are guards or tackles as Coach Gene Ronzani moved to strengthen the "inner section" of the Packers for the 1953 National Football league championship race. Of the thirteen, only two are veterans—Len Szafaryn, a guard, and tackle Howie Ruetz.

Sanford, 22, was recommended by Abner Wimbler, the Packers' great defensive end of 1950-51-52 who recently signed as assistant coach at LSU. The newcomer stands 6-1 and packs 210 pounds.

Co-captain in 1952, Sanford plays both offense and defense at the two position. He ranked as the team's best defensive lineman at the end of the season after missing the first five games.

Berkich, 26, packs 235 pounds on his 6-1 frame. A native of Hibbing, Minnesota, and a resident of Chisholm, Minnesota, Berkich specializes in offense and is rated the leading blocker on the West Virginia eleven. Like Sanford, Berkich was co-captain in his senior season, 1951. He served two years in the Navy.

Ineligible last year, Berkich served his alma mater as an assistant coach during the season.

The two new signers, both "missed" in the recent draft, will find plenty of guard-tackle competition when practice opens at Grand Rapids, Minnesota, late in July. Among other rookie greats already signed are Bill Forester of SMU; Roger Zatkoff, Michigan; Jack Morgan of Michigan State; Vic Rimkus of Holy Cross; and Bob Kennedy of Wisconsin.

Mark Booth, an unattached entry, set it Tuesday night by leaping 6 ft. 7 1/4 inches. This bettered the old mark set by Ed Washington of Western Michigan in 1939 by two inches.

Two other meet records were tied. Jim Podoley tied one by running the 220-yard dash in 21.4 and Grant Scruggs tied another by doing the 440 in 48.6. Scruggs was unattached.

Podoley also won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 8 inches.

Terry Block of Grand Rapids Union won the high school invitational mile in 4:31.6. This was a special event. Lynn Holley of Howell finished second and Fred Tschirhart of Milan was third.

Track spokesmen said the horse suffered an internal hemorrhage while its owner, W. L. Frazer of Forest, Ont., was putting the pacer through the workout.

Jesse Turner Fights Holly Mims Tonight
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hard-hitting Jesse Turner of St. Louis and Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., who hasn't been off his feet in 42 bouts, meet here tonight in a scheduled 10-round boxing bout at the St. Louis Arena. It will be televised (CBS) at 8 p.m. (CST).

Both boxers have an eye on the top 10 list of the middleweight division. Neither is ranked at present.

Turner two weeks ago won a 10-round decision over 10th ranked Norman Hayes of Boston.

Mims has won two decisions over Johnny Bratton.

Faculty members of Escanaba High School voted richly deserved honors to Paul Davidson when they named the Escanaba senior as the 1953 Herman Gessner Trophy winner. Davidson's contribution to Escanaba High School athletics was made on the football field, the basketball court and the baseball diamond. Probably his outstanding contribution was in football where he was named to the All-U. P. first team as a guard. He was also named captain and most valuable player on the Eskymo squad last season.

We don't often have a chance to dwell on outdoor sports in this space, but we'd like to pass on an interesting fishing story that came our way yesterday. Little Gary Wait, two and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wait Jr., made his first fishing trip a successful one on Decoration Day. Fishing with his parents near Kipling, Gary pulled up a nice northern pike measuring 30 inches and weighing four and a half pounds. Asked what bait he prefers, the youthful angler replies: "Nightcrawler."

Area keggers picked up more than $700 in prize money in the recently concluded Upper Peninsula Bowling tournament at Negaunee. Escanaba bowlers grabbed the biggest slice of the prize melon, $297. Manistique keggers were next with $273.50 and the Gladstone rollers took home $176.50. A total of $6,462 in prize money was distributed to the tournament leaders.

Recreation Baseball Leagues To Organize

With organization of the Little League and Little Bigger League programs completed, City Recreation Director Art Petersen announced today that the annual recreation baseball leagues will be formed this week.

The recreation leagues include players between the ages of eight and 17. All boys not already signed to some other league are invited to sign up for the program.

Boys interested may sign up Thursday and Friday at 4 p. m., at Club 314, or at Memorial Field from 10 to noon and 1 to 5 p. m. In charge of signing the players will be Petersen and Paul Vardigan.

The recreation department hopes to form three leagues, same as last year. The Midget League is for boys eight to 10, the Junior League is for youngsters 11 and 12, and the Cadet League is for boys 14 through 17.

Last summer the three leagues included 150 boys and at least as many are expected to join the program this year.

Teams listed in the three leagues are as follows:
Midget League—Kiddie Korner, Westby's, Budinger's and Tommy's Lunch.

Junior League — Breitenbach's, Delta Frame, Anderson & Bloom, Liberty Loan, Brackett's and Co-Cola.

Cadet League—Derkos Dodgers, No Names, Fair Store and Falcons.

Ex-Grapppler Making His Mark In Music

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandor Szabo's main claim to fame is that he is a wrestler who once held the "undisputed" championship of the world... along with five or six others.

But now the handsome Hungarian has blossomed forth as a singer. Sure, everyone laughed when the hero of hundreds of nights in the ring stood up to sing. But they laugh no more.

The Ladies Swoon

Because Sandor gives out, with surprising poise and effect, with a baritone that is deep, rich, rather melancholy, and full of such feeling that the ladies swoon all over the place. Well, almost anyway.

The first Ezio Pinza of the cauliflower clique, all 220 pounds of him, is dead serious about his vocalizing. When as a gag a friend asked if perhaps Pinza might not be offended about a wrestler invading the field of music, Sandor replied seriously in his magnificently fractured accent:

"Vy shud he? I would haff no complaint if Mr. Peenza wrestle."

Three Brave Men

Three brave young men in Hollywood's television-radio-field—Gene De Paris, Bud and Mickey Freeman—gathered up all their spare cash, persuaded Dennis Fornon to provide his orchestra and recorded Szabo's first platter.

They deliberately named their outfit the Hammerlock Music Company, and selected these first songs for their strapping artist: "Take Me In Your Arms," and "It's All In The Game."

One night Szabo performed, hidden behind a screen, on a TV panel show. The girls, notably movie star Barbara Hale, sighed heavily and applauded wildly. But Barbara's husband, Bill Williams, observed: "What a phoney accent."

Long Games Blamed On Poor Pitching

CHICAGO (AP)—Ineffective pitching, requiring frequent mound changes, is making American League baseball games longer this season. That's the opinion of statisticians and such seasoned observers as Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox.

So far, games have averaged 2 hours 36 minutes, 11 minutes longer than last year.

"As long as there is action, no one is going to beef about the length of games except the sports writers," said Lane. "Certainly the fans don't care—they're getting their money's worth."

Don Nicholas, bidding for an outfield spot with the Chicago White Sox, stole 84 bases for Memphis last season to break the old Southern Association record.

By Jimmy, sire of the Preakness winner Bold, has been a consistently successful stallion. From his first two crops he has 26 foals, 20 starters, 17 winners of 53 races.

Charlie Root, coach for the Chicago Cubs, pitched for the Cubs in four World Series—1929, '32, '35 and '38.

In 1947 Hank Sauer, then playing for the Syracuse Chiefs in the International League, hit 50 home runs and batted in 141 runs.

Unbeaten Powers Tops Tri County Standings

Team	W.	L.
Powers	4	0
Bark River	3	0
Wallace	2	1
Foster City	2	1
Perronville	1	2
Carney-Nadeau	1	3
Daggett	0	3
Hermansville	0	3

Games Sunday

Wallace at Bark River
Foster City at Powers
Perronville at Carney-Nadeau
Hermansville at Daggett

Results Last Sunday

Powers 8, Carney-Nadeau 0.

With all games but one rained out last Sunday, the Tri County baseball league will make another stab at it this weekend with both undefeated clubs slated for home stands.

Powers pulled out in front in the early league scramble by blanking Carney-Nadeau 8-0 on a two-hitter by Ray Wells in the lone game played last Sunday. It was the fourth straight victory for Powers.

Rained out of its chance to keep pace with Powers last weekend, Bark River will entertain Wallace this Sunday. Powers plays host to Foster City. It will be an opportunity for the two visiting teams to gain on the leaders, as they share third place with records of two wins against one defeat.

If rain lets this weekend's schedule get by, one of the two winless clubs in the circuit will gain its first victory. Hermansville and Daggett, both winless in three starts, meet at the Daggett diamond.

Hogan, Fitzpatrick Pace Twilight League

Sixty players took part in the twilight golf league play at Escanaba Country Club yesterday—largest attendance of the season, according to Pro Eddie Ernst.

Harry Hogan and Jim Fitzpatrick shared low gross honors with 38's while Augie Gagner's net 34½ was low.

Tim Cassidy, playing with Mike Jensen and C. B. Farrell, narrowly missed scoring his first hole-in-one. He missed the rare ace on the 128-yard No. 3 hole when the ball hit the flag pole. Observers said it would have dropped if the pole had been out.

Hal White Is Signed By St. Louis Cards

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals have signed Hal White, a 34-year-old righthander released only last week by the St. Louis Browns.

Club officials Tuesday said White, 0-0 in 12 relief appearances this season, was signed to give the Cards' pitching staff some support while reliever Eddie Yuhas nurses a sore shoulder.

PRACTICE SCHEDULED

Insurance Association of the Little Bigger League will practice at Royce Park Friday at 6 p. m.

Sports Roundup

DETROIT (AP) — Overheard in Briggs Stadium:

Queens are crowned... Men climb Mt. Everest... But all the Tigers want is one tiny victory... They haven't had one since May 22, losing seven times and tying twice.

Frank Carswell, veteran outfielder, was released by the Tigers to join the Buffalo farm club... "I'm just as glad," said the 33-year-old flycatcher "I'd rather play every day... I wasn't too happy with the Tigers."

The Philadelphia A's roster shows that Bobo Newsom, veteran hurler, is 45 years old... "That's all wrong," says Bobo, trying to sound offended. "I'm only 43."

At any rate, Newsom broke into organized baseball in 1928... What were you doing in 1928?

Billy Hoelt, Tiger lefty sidelined since May 16th with a sore arm and a cold, will pitch one of the games Thursday in the doubleheader against the A's... Ray Herbert was slated to face Philadelphia's Morrie Martin today.

Walt Drogo knocked in his 33rd run of the season Tuesday night, the big first baseman is still in a horrible batting slump... His batting average has slipped to .225 and it seems that he hasn't hit a line drive since the first week of the season. He went 0-for-8 Tuesday night.

Owen Friend hit his first homer of the season for the Tigers... It was a two-run poke, slicing over the right centerfield fence.

Six Teams Move Places In National League

Day Makes Big Difference

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports writer

What a difference a day makes—at least in the standings of the National League.

Starting right from the top where the Milwaukee Braves brought an abrupt end to Brooklyn's 48-hour reign of glory, six of the eight senior circuit clubs found their positions changed today.

The Braves were back in first place by half a game. Brooklyn had slipped to second. Third place belonged to Philadelphia instead of St. Louis. And at the other end Pittsburgh was out of the cellar and Chicago was in it while Cincinnati was all alone in the sixth spot.

Do It Hard Way

Milwaukee moved in front the hard way—by whipping the Dodgers. They went into the ninth inning at Ebbets Field trailing by one run and pulled a 4-3 victory on a two-run homer by Andy Pafko.

The drive by Pafko, all the more humiliating to the Dodgers since he was on their payroll until early this year, snapped a 10-game Brooklyn winning streak, the longest in either league.

The Phillies traded places with the Cardinals as Robin Roberts blanked the Redbirds on seven hits for his eighth victory, 5-0. The New York Giants and Cincinnati played the longest National League game of the season—13 innings—with the Redlegs scoring twice in the 13th for a 5-3 decision. Pittsburgh nipped Chicago, 4-3, in 11 innings at Forbes Field.

More Marathons

The National League had no monopoly on the marathon contests. In Detroit the Tigers and Philadelphia Athletics battled four hours and 28 minutes through 14 innings to a 7-7 tie. The game, which will have to be replayed from the start, was called because of the league curfew which prohibits the start of any inning after 12:50 a.m., local time.

Joe Collins' ninth inning homer, his second of the night, gave the New York Yankees a 4-3 margin over the Chicago White Sox. Cleveland kept pace with the Yanks by defeating Boston, 7-3, and St. Louis outlasted Washington, 5-3.

combined to limit Brooklyn to five hits with Burdette, who came on in the eighth, picking up the victory, his third without a loss. Russ Meyer went all the way in defeat for Brooklyn.

Reversed Form

For the Braves, who bowed 18 times in 21 appearances with the Dodgers last season, this was the second victory over Brooklyn. The Dodgers have won three. Both of the Milwaukee triumphs have come at Ebbets Field, where the Dodgers have lost only two other games while winning 15.

Roberts' eighth victory, over the Cardinals, was one of his easiest since his teammates got him four runs to work on in the first inning. Cliff Chambers, the St. Louis starter, retired with an injured muscle while pitching to the second batter, Gerry Staley came in after barely warming up and immediately got into trouble. He threw a home-run ball to Del Ennis with two on base and another one to Granny Hamner with the bases empty before he could finish the inning.

Ruin Relief Job

At New York the Redlegs ruined a fine relief job by Dave Koso as they bunched two singles and a triple by Jim Greengrass for two runs in the top of the 13th. Koso had pitched 1-3 hitless innings before Gus Bell oined the 13th with a bloop single. Bud Podbielan went all the way for Cincinnati.

Frank Thomas broke up the Pittsburgh-Chicago game with a bases-empty blast in the 11th.

The Chicago White Sox are the only team in the American League with a season's edge over the Yankees and the Yanks are trying to scrape this flaw from their record immediately. Until last night's game the White Sox had won four and lost only one to the world champions with the four victories coming in succession.

Collins' two homers changed all this and also extended the Yankees' winning streak to five games.

The Boston Red Sox burned up the West in their first swing a month ago and they began their successful campaign in Cleveland. This time apparently is going to be different since the Indians led all the way last night and clinched matters in the eighth when Al Rosen homered with two on. Mike Garcia picked up the decision.

Satchel Paige, the ancient wonder of the St. Louis Browns, finally won his first game of the 1953 season. Satch took over in the sixth inning against Washington and retired 10 men in a row. It was his 19th appearance. He has been charged with two losses.

Tigers Dig In For 7 To 7 Tie In 14-Inning Marathon

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—They may be bad but, doggone, they're an interesting team to watch.

The Detroit Tigers these days are more fun than a roller coaster at Coney Island, even though they have more downs than ups.

Just take last night's game against the Philadelphia A's which started at 8:30 p. m., and ended at 12:58 a. m., this morning.

It had more chills and thrills than a Hollywood B picture. It went 14 innings and the teams finished the grinding four-hour, 28-minute marathon in a 7-7 tie.

Tigers Stage Rallyes

Twice the Tigers looked dead in the 10th and 12th innings.

In both cases, the A's shot ahead—only to be caught by the gritty Detroiters, who matched them run for run, rally for rally.

In the 10th, the A's scored three times to take a 6-3 lead. A run-scoring double by Joe Astroth and a two-run single by Eddie Joost did the damage.

The Tigers didn't quit though. They bounced back like a new rubber ball and tallied three times to tie the score. A run-scoring fly by Walt Dropo and Pat Mullin's

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Chuck Davey, 149, Lansing, Mich., outpointed Sammy Mastrea, 150, Pittsburgh, 10.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Harry Braelow, 157 1/2, Miami Beach, outpointed Jackie La Bea, 151 1/2, Brooklyn, 10.

Washington—Jimmy Cooper, 125, Washington, knocked out Gene Smith, 126, Washington, 6.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Red Cameron, 195, Miami, outpointed Jack Harding, 203, Buffalo, N. Y., 10.

Los Angeles—Sal Flores, 160, Anaheim, Calif., stopped Armando Coterio, 184, Guadalajara, Mexico, 4.

pinch-hit double, knocking in two runs, squarred the score 6-6.

Suder Strokes Homer

Then, in the 12th, Pete Suder, a frisky 37-year-old veteran, put Philadelphia ahead again by hitting a home run into the left field stands. It was his fourth hit of the game and it looked like a game-winner.

The first two Tigers in the 12th were retired. The crowd headed for the exit gates.

But a walk to Joe Ginsberg and a single by Mullin stopped them in their tracks.

Johnny Pesky's game-tying single sent them scurrying back to their seats.

Must Be Replayed

The teams fought two more innings, fruitlessly, and the game finally was called due to the American League curfew law.

It will have to be replayed from the start. But ask any of the 11,971 fans who saw the game. They'll tell you they weren't cheated. In fact, a few more games like this one and Briggs Stadium will be back in business as one of the busiest parks in the majors.

Both the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians have professed interest in Joost.

General manager Arthur Ehlert and his field director, Jimmy Dykes, believe Eddie is the finest shortstop in the American League. Why then is he being considered for trade? The answer is that Ehlert is looking to the future.

The A's don't necessarily want a shortstop in return. They need a hard hitting young catcher, a fence busting outfielder who can run, and a third baseman. They aren't interested in cash.

Pick Skarritt As Airman Of Month

W. L. Norton
Manager

A 1/c Thurman J. Skarritt, son of the Thurman J. Skarritt Sr., of Germfask, was named Airman of the Month for April in the 26th Fighter Interceptor Squadron on Okinawa, according to an article appearing in an Okinawa issue of the Stars and Stripes.

The article follows: "A 1/c Thurman J. Skarritt was awarded the honor of Airman of the Month for April in the 26th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, it was announced last week. Skarritt, a clerk in the Operations section, won the award in recognition of the outstanding way in which he performs his duties, his habitually neat appearance, and good-natured attitude. A conscientious and unshirking worker, he strives for perfection in his duties and co-operates to the utmost with his fellow workers.

"Born in Newberry, Michigan, 22 years ago last month, he calls the little town of Germfask his home. Thurman graduated from high school in June, 1949, and after working for a prefabricated housing company as a truck driver, enlisted in the Air Force in March, 1951.

"After completing basic training at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, he attended a clerk-typist school at Carlton State Teachers College, Stephenville, Texas. He first saw Okinawa's horizons Oct. 18, 1951, and is due to return home next August.

"As for the future, he's not sure what he'll do when his enlistment is up, but whatever it is, we wish him lots of good luck and congratulations on a fine showing."

Reckless Milwaukee Driver Convicted; He Wasn't At Wheel

MILWAUKEE (P) — Ronald Zakowski, 19, was convicted of reckless driving even though he never touched the steering wheel.

He was a passenger Saturday night in the auto in which John R. Ritzel, 18, led police on a 40-mile chase. Officers said Zakowski advised Ritzel on the progress of police pursuit.

Civil Judge Leo B. Hanley said Zakowski was as much of a reckless driver as Ritzel and cited a state law which says one who "counsels" a law violator may be charged with the same offense.

Both youths were placed on probation and had their driver's licenses suspended for one year.

Danish Voters OK Woman On Throne

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (P)—Danish voters have narrowly approved a change in the Constitution which will permit a woman to occupy the throne for the first time in 500 years.

Consequently, 13-year-old Princess Margrethe, eldest daughter of King Frederik, may someday rule this oldest kingdom in the world.

Approval came from just 46 per cent of the 2,511,541 persons eligible to vote—one per cent more than the 45 per cent required.

Cut Of 8 Billions In U. S. Spending Is Goal For Fiscal '55

WASHINGTON (P)—Rowland R. Hughes, assistant budget director, says the Eisenhower administration would like to cut federal spending by an additional eight billion dollars in the fiscal year starting 13 months from now.

That is fiscal 1955, the first year for which the new administration prepares a budget from scratch. It will be submitted in January.

For the coming fiscal year, starting July 1, the administration proposes to spend $74,100,000,000, as compared with the $78,600,000,000 recommended by former President Truman.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, Hughes said the target for the following year is spending of 65 to 66 billions.

"Don't hold me to it," he said, "but that's what we are shooting at."

Kazak Tribesmen Escape From China

NEW DELHI (P)—During 1951, 375 Kazak tribesmen entered Kashmir after escaping from Communist-occupied Sinkiang Province of China, Indian Deputy Home Minister B. N. Datar says.

Datar says 172 of them have gone to Turkey, and six to Mecca. Twenty-five died, due to exhaustion after trekking across the most inhospitable Himalayan terrain and other causes.

The remaining 172 are still in Kashmir and the government of India is trying to afford facilities if they want to go to any other country for resettlement.

The government so far has spent $9,030 on these refugees, Datar says.
